4 Navy Jets Attacked By 2 Red MIGs

No Planes Lost In Short Dogfight 70 Miles From Hanoi

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two Communist MIG17s attacked four U.S. Navy jet planes over North Viet Nam today in a short, swirling dogfight 70 miles south of Hanoi. It was the farthest south enemy jets are known to have ventured so far in the war.

None of the planes was damaged in the encounter, the U.S. military command reported.

The MIGs pounced on the carrier-based Navy A4 Skyhawks with 37mm cannon fire, a spokesman said. The Skyhawks took evasive action, he said, and broke off contact.

Most of the previous aerial battles with Communist MIGs have occurred north and northwest of Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

The dogfight followed a day of near-record pounding of targets in North Viet Nam by U.S. fighter-bombers.

Navy, Air Force and Marine planes flew 133 missions Monday against the Communist north, hitting 17 oil storage depots and other targets, most of them in the Haiphong area and the southern panhandle. The strikes approached the record of 139 missions flown against the north earlier this month.

In South Viet Nam, ground action dwindled to light and scattered fighting.

Even in the central highlands where a big scrap appeared to be shaping up, no contact had been reported since noon Monday.

Air Force B52 bombers struck today at suspected Viet Cong storage sites and troop concentrations 75 miles northwest of Saigon in War Zone C near the Cambodian border.

In the dogfight, the Navy planes from the carrier Oriskany were attacking a North Vietnamese train about 20 miles northeast of Thanh Hoa when the MIGs pounced on them. The spokesman said the Navy bombers damaged four boxcars before they left the scene.

He said the Navy planes did not fire on the MIGs. The encounter lasted only a few minutes.

In Monday's raids the spokesman said, Navy planes scored destructive hits on two oil dumps and damaged others.

Vote On Tentative Agreement Friday

Striking Mechanics Get Details Of Airline Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking mechanics receive today details of a tentative agreement aimed at ending by Friday the shutdown of five major airlines.

The idled airlines said they could resume some flights this weekend if the agreement is approved by the strikers at meetings across the nation Friday. The strike is now in its 40th day.

P. L. (Roy) Siemiller, president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, called the settlement, reached about dawn Monday, "the best ever in one set of negotiations by any union."

Details of the contract were to remain secret until the 35,400 strikers received a letter from Siemiller in which he said he recommended ratification of the agreement reached with the airlines — Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United.

Informed sources said, however, the contract was a three-year package worth about $90 million — an estimated 8 per cent increase for the machinists.

This would mean a $1 per hour increase over three years for top mechanics now earning $3.52 per hour plus benefits that bring the total to $4 per hour.

The agreement is believed also to contain a cost-of-living wage escalator clause, a key union demand. Lack of such a clause reportedly was instrumental in union rejection of an agreement negotiated under White House auspices July 29. The White House had no comment on the new agreement.

Officials believe another reason for the 3-1 vote against the first agreement was lack of understanding of its provisions.

In an effort to get a speedy ratification of the July 29 agreement only terse telegrams were sent to the locals and the vote was taken two days later.

This time, however, Siemiller mailed personal letters to all striking union members for whom the headquarters had addresses — an estimated 28,000.

After news of the new settlement reached Congress Monday, the House Rules Committee delayed action on a Senate-passed resolution to force the strikers to return to the jobs they left July 8.

No further congressional action on the measure is expected pending the outcome of the union vote scheduled to be held simultaneously across the country at 3 p.m. EDT Friday.

Results of the vote are to be telephoned or telegraphed to union headquarters here by 6 p.m. EDT Friday.

The strike — believed to be the longest, biggest and most costly in airline annals — technically would end if the union members ratify the settlement Friday.

However, planes probably would not start moving before Saturday and full service would not be restored before early next week.

Th five struck airlines normally handle about 60 per cent of the nation's air traffic. They have lost an estimated $333 million in revenue.

The strikers, plus another 35,000 to 50,000 employes laid off by the struck lines, have lost about $64 million in wages.

Next Move Studied By Opposition

Special Court Says It Would Consider Bids To Air Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) —A special three-judge court threw out today the temporary restraining order against a hearing by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The ruling was announced seconds before 10 a.m., when the hearings into demonstrations against the Viet Nam war were scheduled to open.

The special court said, however, that it would consider at any time a request for a hearing about the matter.

Attorneys for the American Civil Liberties Union which had sought the order against the committee hearings and had won the first round, conferred immediately to consider their next step.

The special three-judge court said it dissolved the temporary restraining order which had been granted by a district court judge Monday, because there was "no finding of irreparable damage as required by the statute."

Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., acting chairman of the committee, said it would meet as scheduled despite Monday's order by U.S. Dist. Judge Howard Corcoran. Extra police were ordered posted around the House office building should there be any demonstrations by peace groups.

Corcoran, acting on a suit brought by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) on behalf of two of 13 persons subpoenaed by the committee, issued a temporary restraining order forbidding the hearing. He blocked the subpoenas and directed that a three-judge federal court be convened to consider constitutional questions raised by the suit.

The Justice Department, acting on behalf of the committee, promptly asked a three-judge panel of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to throw out Judge Corcoran's order. The judges left it in force overnight and directed the ACLU and Justice Department to file written briefs today.

Refusal to obey Judge Corcoran's order could subject the nine committee members, all named as defendants in the suit, to contempt of court action.

But Pool made it clear, in a speech to several dozen applauding House members and later to reporters, that he had no intention of bowing to the court order. He is acting as chairman of the committee in the absence of Rep. Edwin E. Willis, who is in a Democratic primary election runoff in Louisiana.

Weed Bill Delayed

Control Enacted On Junked Cars

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to legislation that bans junked cars from city streets or private property not licensed as a scrap yard, but delayed final enactment of a companion measure that would force property owners to cut tall weeds and grass.

The "junker" ordinance provides that no abandoned, disabled car may remain on a public street for more than 30 days. In addition, autos or parts of cars cannot be stored on private property that is not legally licensed as a scrap yard, the legislation provides.

WITHIN 10 days after recieving a notice from the city, the owner must remove a junked car or parts of autos and place them "in an enclosure or building," the legislation provides. It allows the auto's owner 15 days in which to comply with the notice. After the deadline, he may be fined up to $50 for a first offense and not more than $500 for a subsequent offense, the ordinance provides.

The legislation carries an emergency clause, which means it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

But the weed control legislation mustered only a 5-2 vote, which means it must be given two more readings before final enactment.

Councilman Harold Maylone and Floyd Murray voted "no." The legislation was supported by Councilmen Frank Duffy, Robert W. Sample, Norman Bucher, Donna Richards Wilson and James Lowe.

The legislation provides that no person in charge of a piece of property may allow weeds or grass to grow at a height of over 18 inches. It also provides that Council will take action against a person in charge of property after receiving a written notice that "noxious weeds are growing. . . .and are about to spread and mature seeds...."

The owner, lessee, agent or tenant of the property will be notified to destroy the weeds within five days, the legislation provides. If he fails to act, Council is empowered to have the work done and then apply the charge against the property as a lien on the tax duplicate.

—:—

SAMPLE, chairman of the finance committee, warned that enactment of the legislation "will be costly to the city."

"I just want the public to realize that," he said. "We have one mowing machine now, but

Senate Faces Issue On Call For Reserves

Would Give LBJ Authority To Put Group Into Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate faces a bipartisan effort today to give President Johnson authority to call into service for 18 months thousands of young men now in the Ready Reserve.

The move by Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., looms as the key issue as the Senate takes up the $58-billion defense appropriation measure. Russell is chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Saltonstall its ranking Republican member.

As the law is now, the President would have to declare a state of emergency before he could summon the Ready Reserve to active duty.

But Russell, manager of the appropriation measure, calls it a scandal that "men who have enough pull to get into Reserve or National Guard units are not being sent to fight, while the man across the street who is drafted lands in Viet Nam."

Russell and Saltonstall plan to ask the Senate to include an amendment in the appropriation bill that would authorize the President — but not require him — to call up for "not more than 18 consecutive months" those ready reservists who have not served on active duty other than for a training stint.

One source estimated this would cover more than 500,000 men.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, with obvious backing of Johnson, has opposed any call up of the civilian reservists for Viet Nam duty.

Fair Housing Marches Will Be Expanded

Units In Chicago To Go Into Previously Picketed Sections

CHICAGO (AP) — Strategists of the civil rights fair housing movement will send eight platoons of marchers into previously picketed areas today in a continued expansion of demonstrations.

The Rev. James Bevel told a rally of 500 civil rights workers Monday night that three march units would go to Jefferson Park, a Northwest Side neighborhood where demonstrators paraded, prayed and sang Sunday under the protection of 250 policemen.

Five groups will picket at downtown locations including the Chicago Real Estate Board. A vigil Wednesday afternoon in drizzling rain at the Real Estate Board drew little attention.

Today's marches are scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. EDT.

Other downtown targets are the Chicago Housing Authority, the Cook County Public Aid Of-

Final Okay Due On School Work

The final go-ahead is expected momentarily from the Ohio Department of Education at Columbus on the construction of three new elementary buildings and a high school building for the East Liverpool School System under a $4.3 million program approved by the voters.

Following a report from Architect Robert F. Beatty at Monday night's meeting, the Board of Education approved a resolution clearing the way for advertising of bids contingent upon approval from the state.

—:—

A LAST - MINUTE setback prevented the hiring of Charles I. Jones as high school principal. Carl Pelini, who had been principal, recently was elevated to the position of assistant superintendent of schools.

Supt. Paul Blair said that 15 minutes before last night's meeting convened, Jones, who is now principal at Middletown, Del., called to inform local school authorities that the board there would not release him from his contract.

Blair said that screening of present applicants will continue and that new applications will be accepted for the post.

The board approved a resolution to place a 3.5-mill operating levy on the ballot in November to meet recent salary increase granted teachers in the system.

The resignations of Charles A. Ridenour, high school Industrial Arts teacher, and Ronald H. Griffith Jr., English instructor at Westgate, were accepted.

Miss Patricia Beck was appointed high school English teacher and Raymond Goodman junior high shop teacher.

—:—

BLAIR, reporting on repair and maintenance at the various buildings, said the over-all improvement program was virtually 90 per cent complete.

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, president of the board, was designated as a delegate to the Ohio School Board Association meeting Nov. 10-11 at Columbus, with Sam

Data Outlined By Mayor On City Finances

Mayor George E. Willshaw gave Council a preview Monday night of data which he is assembling to show the city's financial condition in 1966, as compared with 1955.

The overall tax rate paid by East Liverpool residents has grown from $28 per $1,000 valuation in 1955 to $41.20 in 1965, but the municipality's share has gone up only 20 cents on each $1,000 valuation, Willshaw declared. The city's share of the taxpayer's $28 in 1955 was $7.50 while the municipality's share was $7.70 for each $41.20 that was paid in 1965, he asserted.

In the meantime, city employes have been granted four general pay increases — in 1958, 1959, 1962 and 1965, the mayor said. Pay boosts granted last year will cost the city $48,000 this year, he said. In addition to the wage hikes, employes have been provided with hospital and life insurance, he added.

Comparing wage rates, he said a city laborer was paid $1.45 hourly in 1955, but now draws $2.08. Willshaw said he is compiling the data because many citizens ask: "Where does the money go?" He invited Council members to study the data for their own use.

Police Car Purchase Approved By Council

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to a resolution authorizing Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to advertise for bids and sign a contract for purchase of a motor vehicle to be used as a police cruiser.

The legislation provides that as part of the deal the city will trade in a 1964 Chevrolet, a former police cruiser now being used by Dog Warden Harold Flowers. Vodrey said a call for bids will be issued shortly and that the offers will be opened at City Hall on Sept. 2.

Vodrey read a letter from Chief A. J. Radeschi asserting that two cruisers should be replaced. Car No. 2 has traveled 70,000 miles and Car No. 4 shows 100,000 miles on its speedometer, the letter said. Because of costly repairs, it is no longer economically feasible for the city to operate the two, the chief said.

$5.34 Million For 'Fishing Job'

Air Force Pays Off Navy For Recovery Of H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has paid off the Navy for that splendid bit of fishing for a hydrogen bomb off Spain last April.

A Pentagon spokesman said today the settlement came to $5.34 million, which the Air Force paid the Navy by check.

This may be a decent wage for hauling up a supervaluable hydrogen bomb from 2,500 feet deep in the Mediterranean Sea.

It comes out to around $65,000 a day, considering that the nuclear device was missing for 80 days after it was dropped from a disintegrating B52.

The approved billing isn't a great deal more than the $5 million claim posted against the U.S. government by lawyers for Spanish fisherman Simo Orts, proclaimed as "the hero of the recovery" by U.S. Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke.

Orts saw the parachute floating the bomb after the B52 and a KC135 tanker collided. He told authorities it went thataway.

It remained for the Navy to haul it up after an extensive sea bottom search.

By joint service agreement, the Air Force was obliged to pay for the cost of recovery. After all, it was an Air Force bomb, signed for by the pilot of the B52 before he took off on what the United States called a training flight.

Actually, this was one of the daily flights by nuclear bomb-equipped planes the United States keeps airborne — just in case.

Council Votes $3,000 More For Street Job

Council approved an amended appropriation ordinance Monday night allocating $3,000 more to help pay the city's share of the annual low-cost street surfacing program.

The legislation provides $2,400 additional for sealing of streets previously surfaced and $600 more for applying the first treatment to other thoroughfares.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said the surfacing program will cover sections of 34 streets, or about 14,000 square yards.

The city pays 50 per cent of the cost of the surfacing and foots the entire bill for seal-coating of streets given the initial treatment in prior years.

Police Car Purchase Approved By Council

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to a resolution authorizing Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to advertise for bids and sign a contract for purchase of a motor vehicle to be used as a police cruiser.

The legislation provides that as part of the deal the city will trade in a 1964 Chevrolet, a former police cruiser now being used by Dog Warden Harold Flowers. Vodrey said a call for bids will be issued shortly and that the offers will be opened at City Hall on Sept. 2.

Vodrey read a letter from Chief A. J. Radeschi asserting that two cruisers should be replaced. Car No. 2 has traveled 70,000 miles and Car No. 4 shows 100,000 miles on its speedometer, the letter said. Because of costly repairs, it is no longer economically feasible for the city to operate the two, the chief said.

Word Expected Any Minute

Final Okay Due On School Work

The final go-ahead is expected momentarily from the Ohio Department of Education at Columbus on the construction of three new elementary buildings and a high school building for the East Liverpool School System under a $4.3 million program approved by the voters.

Following a report from Architect Robert F. Beatty at Monday night's meeting, the Board of Education approved a resolution clearing the way for advertising of bids contingent upon approval from the state.

—:—

A LAST - MINUTE setback prevented the hiring of Charles I. Jones as high school principal. Carl Pelini, who had been principal, recently was elevated to the position of assistant superintendent of schools.

Supt. Paul Blair said that 15 minutes before last night's meeting convened, Jones, who is now principal at Middletown, Del., called to inform local school authorities that the board there would not release him from his contract.

Blair said that screening of present applicants will continue and that new applications will be accepted for the post.

The board approved a resolution to place a 3.5-mill operating levy on the ballot in November to meet recent salary increase granted teachers in the system.

The resignations of Charles A. Ridenour, high school Industrial Arts teacher, and Ronald H. Griffith Jr., English instructor at Westgate, were accepted.

Miss Patricia Beck was appointed high school English teacher and Raymond Goodman junior high shop teacher.

—:—

BLAIR, reporting on repair and maintenance at the various buildings, said the over-all improvement program was virtually 90 per cent complete.

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, president of the board, was designated as a delegate to the Ohio School Board Association meeting Nov. 10-11 at Columbus, with Sam

$5.34 Million For 'Fishing Job'

Air Force Pays Off Navy For Recovery Of H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has paid off the Navy for that splendid bit of fishing for a hydrogen bomb off Spain last April.

A Pentagon spokesman said today the settlement came to $5.34 million, which the Air Force paid the Navy by check.

This may be a decent wage for hauling up a supervaluable hydrogen bomb from 2,500 feet deep in the Mediterranean Sea.

It comes out to around $65,000 a day, considering that the nuclear device was missing for 80 days after it was dropped from a disintegrating B52.

The approved billing isn't a great deal more than the $5 million claim posted against the U.S. government by lawyers for Spanish fisherman Simo Orts, proclaimed as "the hero of the recovery" by U.S. Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke.

Orts saw the parachute floating the bomb after the B52 and a KC135 tanker collided. He told authorities it went thataway.

It remained for the Navy to haul it up after an extensive sea bottom search.

By joint service agreement, the Air Force was obliged to pay for the cost of recovery. After all, it was an Air Force bomb, signed for by the pilot of the B52 before he took off on what the United States called a training flight.

Actually, this was one of the daily flights by nuclear bomb-equipped planes the United States keeps airborne — just in case.

Dairy Farm Inspected By 4-H Club Members

LISBON — Columbiana County 4-H Dairy Club members and their parents visited a Jewett dairy farm Thursday to see a 50-head Holstein herd with an annual average of over 17,000 pounds of milk per cow.

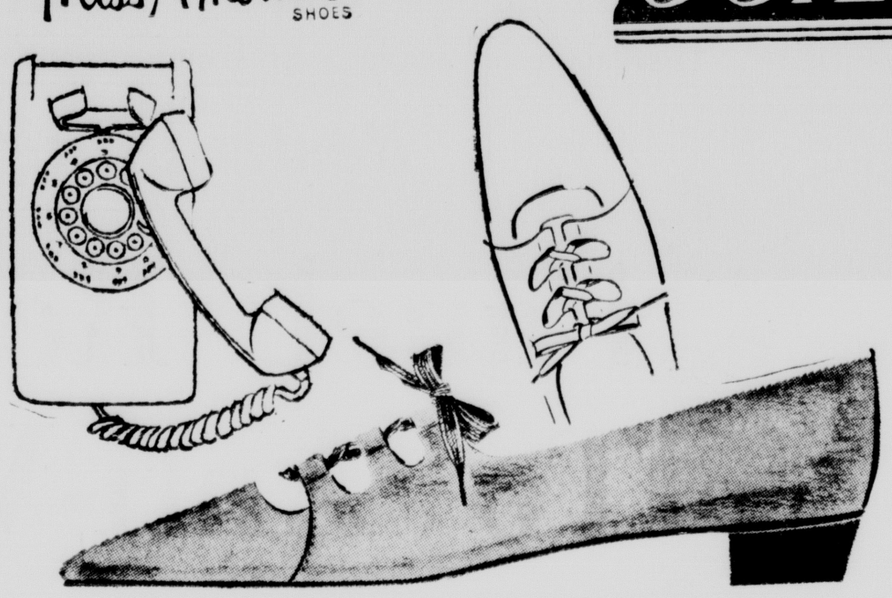

Horace Stewart and his son, Robert, a graduate of Ohio State University College of Agriculture, showed the visitors the farming operation. Unusual was an experimental planting of corn in sod instead of in plowed ground. Robert talked to the young people about dairying as a profession.

Robert Lewis, county 4-H agent, said 60 persons made the trip in 14 cars. Fourteen were parents. The caravan also went to the Hanna Coal Co. strip mining operation south of Cadiz to see the "Silver Spade" power shovel in action.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Monday granted a continuance until Wednesday in the case of Fred Rayl of 246 W. 4th St., charged with violating the city income tax ordinance by failure to file a final return on 1965 earnings. Rayl originally was due in court last Wednesday. When he failed to appear, he was served with a bench warrant and posted a $107.50 bond.

All Our Statisticians Are Busy

When our statistical projectionists aren't busy projecting round figures for employment, unemployment, employables and unemployables, they are busy totting up the cost of living.

They bring this to a crashing climax with a cost-of-living index every month. This statistical projection is taken to heart by unions with escalator clauses based on the cost of living index. This is what might be described as do-it-yourself price boosting.

It works like this:

The cost of living index rises because statistical projectionists say it did. This causes the wage level to rise, and this causes the cost-of-living index to rise. Instead of being done with mirrors, it's done with statistics.

Or rather it is done with statistical projections, meaning the projectionists put together bits and scraps of information to make a picture of what they think things would look like if there could be a picture.

One of the witnesses in a congressional investigation of food prices revealed in testimony last week why the projectionist's imaginary picture can't be trusted. He was talking about the price of bread. He said housewives were inclined to buy the most expensive bread in the grocery organization he was associated with.

They passed up low-priced bread to buy high-priced bread.

Naturally, these housewives then complain that the price of bread is high. The statistical projectionists who get field reports on food prices in key cities leap to the conclusion that the price of bread is high.

They prepare projections showing the cost-of-living index has risen. This makes wages higher. Higher wages make prices go up. And all because statistical projectionists figured this must be what was happening in the great wide world beyond their figure-packed enclaves.

Alice in Wonderland would have been fascinated if she had seen this. She was a first-rate projectionist herself.

Sense Of Values

Fortunately, senseless acts of vandalism have not occurred too often here and in the district.

There have been enough, however, to cause one to wonder. The throwing of two quarts of paint into the municipal swimming pool at Thompson Park was the latest example.

It's difficult to understand the thinking of those who perpetrate such outrages. What satisfaction could they get from damaging community assets?

The most disturbing thing is that disregard for law and respect of property appears to be spreading. It's a trend of thinking that needs to be reversed in a hurry.

Punishment can—and should—be meted out when the culprits are apprehended in cases of vandalism. But that is like locking the barn door after the horse has gotten out.

Parental guidance — as trying as it may be at times — seems to be a partial answer. A sense of proper values must be instilled in those of our young people who have a tendency to veer in the wrong direction at times.

Putting The Chill On It

Never were so many people aware of the hazard of "heat illness" as were made aware of it this summer during record-breaking high temperatures in July. The death rate soared.

A team of medical doctors in the New York University College of Medicine has pointed out that "heat sickness" is the proper name for what happens when the human body reacts unfavorably to high summertime temperatures.

"Sunstroke" once was the name applied to the same symptoms, also "heat prostration." But "heat sickness" is more accurate.

The old are likelier to be afflicted than the young.

Some of the most severe cases, the New York University team learned, are likely to be found in airless big-city slum tenements. Those who succumb may appear to have other things wrong with them, and frequently do. But the condition that lays them low is prolonged high temperature.

The mortality rate for heat sickness is fearsomely high—so high the U.S. Public Health Service now regards it as a major public health problem.

The New York University doctors deplore the fact there has been no significant progress in treatment, despite the seriousness of heat sickness. There still is only one thing to do—reduce the body temperature of the afflicted person.

This must be done immediately and drastically. Remember when overheated toilers used to run cold water over their wrists, to cool off? It was just what the doctors would have ordered. A cold shower would have been even better.

Nothing At The Moment

The Food and Drug Administration's guarded assurance of safety to users of oral contraceptives shows the dilemma in which government flounders in this era of reliance on high authority.

The government does not create the medical problems it must cope with; it is confronted by them every time a discovery is made in the field of health.

Dr. Jonas Salk discovers a way to immunize the human body against polio.

Dr. Albert Sabin also discovers a way. Factions form. The government is called on to settle a medical squabble — knowing it will be cursed by the faction it offends and unloved by the faction if defends.

A sudden break-through by the pharmaceutical industry reveals to women a way to carry out a program of planned parenthood by the simple expedient of swallowing pills.

The government finds itself in the middle of not only medical but religious turmoil. Theoretically, a word from government authority can resolve all the issues involved. It wouldn't really be that easy, but no one can deny the government, specifically the Food and Drug Administration, has the prerogative of the last word.

It has authority. Others have opinions.

So what does FDA do to acquit itself of responsibility in the matter of birth control pills? It says at this moment there is no scientific evidence of any bad effects from continued use of the pills, then hints that no one can be sure until many more years have passed.

Meanwhile, the proof of the pilling is in the eating, the same formula once used for the scientific testing of pudding.

It worked.

Both Sunny And Wet

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Johnson is talking confidently under a gloomy umbrella.

He is more frank about Viet Nam than President John F. Kennedy was and shows more realism about it than used to be exhibited by Robert S. McNamara, who is his secretary of defense and was Kennedy's.

Although this country pumped billions of dollars in economic and military aid into South Viet Nam under President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Kennedy, that country was in danger of being lost to the Communists because the American-backed dictator President Ngo Dinh Diem did not put in the reforms the United States insisted upon.

You didn't hear much about it from Kennedy. Apparently he felt that if Diem went, all hope went, until at last he cracked down shortly before Diem was assassinated. After that event things picked up. Gradually American forces there were built up.

McNAMARA seemed to have such a poor understanding of what was happening meanwhile, and of what lay ahead, that as late as 1964 he told Congress even if the war didn't go well this country should still withdraw most of its troops by 1965.

He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war, which was true. But that always had been true. And if the South Vietnamese had been left to themselves, the Communists would have overwhelmed them, which was exactly what this country didn't want.

And there were McNamra's seemingly endless expeditions to Viet Nam for a look-see and his returns with statements almost always sunny, like "things are progressing very well out there" or "the Vietnamese are on the right track" when, as it turned out, things weren't and the Vietnamese weren't.

Over the weekend the American commander in Viet Nam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, flew to Johnson's Texas ranch and talked with him four hours about problems, present and future. Then the men met with reporters.

Then — this was the confident part—Johnson said the Communists will not defeat the American forces in Viet Nam and that a victory for them is not only "improbable" but "impossible."

THEN HE stood under this gloomy umbrella: although he said the Reds can't win, he admitted he doesn't know when they finally will stop trying to.

Or, as he put it: "The single most important factor now is our will to prosecute the war until the Communists, recognizing the futility of their ambitions, either end the fighting, or seek a peaceful settlement."

And further, because no one can say when the Communists will admit they can't win, no one can say now how many more Americans will be needed in Viet Nam to convince them.

At this moment there are about 291,000 American troops in South Viet Nam and Westmoreland said more than that will be needed, although he didn't say how many.

But he did reveal there are 280,000 enemy Viet Cong in South Viet Nam. The North Vietnamese are sending in more all the time.

Sweden's System Explained

Sweden has strong labor. It has a prosperous business world. Yet it's heavily automated and has virtually no strikes or unemployment. Prime Minister Tage Erlander, substituting for Victor Riesel, tells just how it is done in his country.

By TAGE ERLANDER

STOCKHOLM — Abroad, Sweden is oftentimes depicted as a country where the social welfare system gives basic security "from the cradle to the grave." By and large this is a correct description, at least in the sense that the system protects the individual and the family against those worries for the future that used to haunt man.

It's sometimes argued that the highly developed social security system tends to kill both initiative and private efforts to save for rainy days. However, there is no evidence that this is the case.

On the contrary it gives us a free choice to save for other things. It also gives a free choice for developing gifts and talents, to realize the possibilities within us.

A poor man, a man who always fears the economic consequences of being unemployed or old, can never feel free in any meaningful sense of that word. The concepts of freedom and social security are not contradictory but complementary.

THE SEARCH FOR SECURITY is the most profound motive power in the struggle for human dignity. But the realization of the dreams of a social welfare state is a difficult task. A prerequisite is that we have the economic resources.

In Europe it used to be said that this problem could best be solved through a system of free competition. This conservative approach is in and of itself correct. In some countries the result has been a rapid progress but unfortunately only for those who happened to be on the sunny side.

In Sweden we have tried to form a synthesis between efficiency and righteousness, between progress and social security. In our experience, there is no conflict between these objectives since security also has a positive influence on business productivity and therefore on the possibilities of increasing the rate of growth in the economy.

The dream of a society designed to protect the individual against unemployment, illness and poverty during his late years, has found its expression in Sweden since the end of the 19th century. But it was only in the 1930s that it gained momentum, due above all to the worldwide depression that also hit Sweden severely.

Many workers were out of a job; many farmers could not sell their products. The workers and farmers found each other in a greatly planned recovery policy, economically guided by the principles of John Maynard Keynes.

This was the start, and on this ground we have tried to build up a society based on solidarity and cooperation. Out of the depression was born a new society, where government, business and labor have reached a very high degree of voluntary cooperation. These tendencies and these ties were strengthened by and during the second World War, and the new society firmly established demonstrated strength and value during the difficult postwar years.

IN MANY COUNTRIES the trade unions have opposed the process of rationalization out of fear of unemployment. In Sweden, however, the workers themselves and their trade unions have a very positive attitude toward rationalization and relocation of industries and they strongly back the policy of mobility and flexibility.

This is not as curious as it might seem at first glance. For if the citizen can trust the government when he comes into difficulties of various kinds, then his attitude will be positive. This means that security could be considered as an important factor of economic growth.

It's not enough to talk about capital and labor as aggregative concepts. Labor for instance, has to be qualified in terms of skill and attitude to rationalizations and other changes.

We consider it a duty of society to protect the individual in a situation for which he is not himself responsible. Our philosophy is that rapid and necessary changes of the economic structure must not create fear but confidence for the future.

Particularly, the policy of full employment is important to explain the positive attitude of the trade unions. It now is conceived to be the task of the government to guarantee full employment, but not through tariffs against competition from abroad and not by opposing developments where manpower is replaced by machines.

THE INDIVIDUAL must always feel that society is going to help him to get a new job, to get settled at a new place, to be retrained if necessary.

If the worker trusts the society in these respects he has no reason to fear changes of industrial life, even if these changes mean that he is going to lose the job he has held for a long time. On the contrary, he knows that the result will be a better living for himself as well as for all citizens of the society.

Therefore, it could be concluded that there is no conflict between the rate of economic growth and the rate of security, even if this ratio cannot be put into any quantitative formula.

The philosophy behind the welfare policy, however, is not predominantly that it results in a more stable and a faster rate of growth. Even if social security should imply a slower rate of growth it is, nevertheless, a right policy from the individual point of view.

Brakes Slammed On Rights Action

Congress at last is beginning to reflect an important wish of the people — that civil rights laws should not be enacted hastily. It's significant that 38 members of the House of Representatives who supported legislation on the subject two years ago switched this week to vote against President Johnson's 1966 bill. Most are from the Northern and Western states.

David Lawrence

This doesn't mean that all the objectives of the civil rights proponents are being questioned, but it does mean that the extremist tactics of some of the civil rights groups and the incitement to violence have aroused the on-looking voters. They have communicated to their representatives in Congress a series of vehement protests which say, in effect, that the scope of civil rights doesn't include the right to engage in uncivil behavior.

What is happening is that "white power" is starting to assert itself against misuse of "black power." Race consciousness has been intensified, instead of diminished, as the provisions of the bill prohibiting any form of discrimination in the sale or rental of houses or apartments have stirred strong feelings in almost every community. Fear of a drop in real estate values is one of the underlying causes of the widespread concern.

WHILE THE HOUSE passed this week a watered-down version of the administration's bill, the measure got only a 259 vote as compared with 290 for the civil rights law of 1964.

Behind the scenes there has been a good deal of discussion among members of Congress, many of whom say privately that they have become apprehensive about the political consequences of any "open housing" section being put into the bill for the right to sell or rent one's property to a white friend at a lower price than to a stranger who is a Negro is something the average voter considers to be an individual right which the owner should be allowed to exercise without the risk of a lawsuit.

The next important stage in the legislative battle comes in the Senate. Already Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic majority leader, has decided to wait until after Labor Day before pressing a Senate committee to report out its bill. He openly concedes that a filibustering debate cannot be ended with the passage of a cloture motion unless Sen. Evered Dirksen, R-Ill., co-operates. Mr. Dirksen has expressed severe criticism of the bill and wants some substantial changes made. He has declared, for instance, that he doesn't believe the "open housing" section is constitutional.

THE ADMINISTRATION is well aware that the bill faces some strong opposition in the Senate and may not even come to a vote unless the proponents are willing to modify the measure considerably.

The change in the tide of public opinion is affecting both political parties. The shift is by no means completed. In the big cities where the Democratic machines exercise control, members of the House who want to see some restraint on extremism are worried. They fear defeat. The handwriting on the political wall is plain. Plenty of discontent on issues other than civil rights also is emerging, and the Republicans may be beneficiaries of the protest vote without themselves taking positive positions on controversial questions.

This is not a novel development. It has happened often in American history that a president will lose the House of Representatives in a mid-term election. The Republicans aren't betting now on such an outcome but privately they count on winning a surprising total of seats in November.

What has induced this trend? While the Viet Nam War and the rise in the cost of living are important factors, dissatisfaction is growing generally because of so many disturbing occurrences, including the big city riots and the strike that has tied up air travel and delayed the mails.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, therefore, are especially sensitive to what the people are saying today. One thing the legislators have learned thus far is that many voters are becoming fed up with civil rights demonstrations and the riots.

The consensus seems to be that Congress should no longer be stampeded or intimidated into passing laws demanded by mobs but should do what's right—consider carefully what is constitutional and what is really workable.

This 'n That

It is generally believed that James Madison was the first to use the term "cabinet" when referring to the U.S. presidents' group of advisers. The first recorded meeting of this group, held in 1791 by President George Washington, included the secretaries of state, war and Treasury and the attorney general.

The median age at which American women are marrying today is about 20 years. The average American wife has 2.03 children and the number of women with three or more children has doubled within the last 20 years.

The largest county in the United States is San Bernardino County, California. It covers more than 20,000 square miles — almost as much area as that of Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey combined.

The cost of living index rises because statistical projectionists say it did. This causes the wage level to rise, and this causes the cost-of-living index to rise. Instead of being done with mirrors, it's done with statistics.

Or rather it is done with statistical projections, meaning the projectionists put together bits and scraps of information to make a picture of what they think things would look like if there could be a picture.

One of the witnesses in a congressional investigation of food prices revealed in testimony last week why the projectionist's imaginary picture can't be trusted. He was talking about the price of bread. He said housewives were inclined to buy the most expensive bread in the grocery organization he was associated with.

They passed up low-priced bread to buy high-priced bread.

Naturally, these housewives then complain that the price of bread is high. The statistical projectionists who get field reports on food prices in key cities leap to the conclusion that the price of bread is high.

They prepare projections showing the cost-of-living index has risen. This makes wages higher. Higher wages make prices go up. And all because statistical projectionists figured this must be what was happening in the great wide world beyond their figure-packed enclaves.

Alice in Wonderland would have been fascinated if she had seen this. She was a first-rate projectionist herself.

Sense Of Values

Fortunately, senseless acts of vandalism have not occurred too often here and in the district.

There have been enough, however, to cause one to wonder. The throwing of two quarts of paint into the municipal swimming pool at Thompson Park was the latest example.

It's difficult to understand the thinking of those who perpetrate such outrages. What satisfaction could they get from damaging community assets?

The most disturbing thing is that disregard for law and respect of property appears to be spreading. It's a trend of thinking that needs to be reversed in a hurry.

Punishment can—and should—be meted out when the culprits are apprehended in cases of vandalism. But that is like locking the barn door after the horse has gotten out.

Parental guidance — as trying as it may be at times — seems to be a partial answer. A sense of proper values must be instilled in those of our young people who have a tendency to veer in the wrong direction at times.

Putting The Chill On It

Never were so many people aware of the hazard of "heat illness" as were made aware of it this summer during record-breaking high temperatures in July. The death rate soared.

A team of medical doctors in the New York University College of Medicine has pointed out that "heat sickness" is the proper name for what happens when the human body reacts unfavorably to high summertime temperatures.

"Sunstroke" once was the name applied to the same symptoms, also "heat prostration." But "heat sickness" is more accurate.

The old are likelier to be afflicted than the young.

Some of the most severe cases, the New York University team learned, are likely to be found in airless big-city slum tenements. Those who succumb may appear to have other things wrong with them, and frequently do. But the condition that lays them low is prolonged high temperature.

The mortality rate for heat sickness is fearsomely high—so high the U.S. Public Health Service now regards it as a major public health problem.

The New York University doctors deplore the fact there has been no significant progress in treatment, despite the seriousness of heat sickness. There still is only one thing to do—reduce the body temperature of the afflicted person.

This must be done immediately and drastically. Remember when overheated toilers used to run cold water over their wrists, to cool off? It was just what the doctors would have ordered. A cold shower would have been even better.

Nothing At The Moment

The Food and Drug Administration's guarded assurance of safety to users of oral contraceptives shows the dilemma in which government flounders in this era of reliance on high authority.

The government does not create the medical problems it must cope with; it is confronted by them every time a discovery is made in the field of health.

Dr. Jonas Salk discovers a way to immunize the human body against polio.

Dr. Albert Sabin also discovers a way. Factions form. The government is called on to settle a medical squabble — knowing it will be cursed by the faction it offends and unloved by the faction if defends.

A sudden break-through by the pharmaceutical industry reveals to women a way to carry out a program of planned parenthood by the simple expedient of swallowing pills.

The government finds itself in the middle of not only medical but religious turmoil. Theoretically, a word from government authority can resolve all the issues involved. It wouldn't really be that easy, but no one can deny the government, specifically the Food and Drug Administration, has the prerogative of the last word.

It has authority. Others have opinions.

So what does FDA do to acquit itself of responsibility in the matter of birth control pills? It says at this moment there is no scientific evidence of any bad effects from continued use of the pills, then hints that no one can be sure until many more years have passed.

Meanwhile, the proof of the pilling is in the eating, the same formula once used for the scientific testing of pudding.

It worked.

Both Sunny And Wet

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Johnson is talking confidently under a gloomy umbrella.

He is more frank about Viet Nam than President John F. Kennedy was and shows more realism about it than used to be exhibited by Robert S. McNamara, who is his secretary of defense and was Kennedy's.

Although this country pumped billions of dollars in economic and military aid into South Viet Nam under President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Kennedy, that country was in danger of being lost to the Communists because the American-backed dictator President Ngo Dinh Diem did not put in the reforms the United States insisted upon.

You didn't hear much about it from Kennedy. Apparently he felt that if Diem went, all hope went, until at last he cracked down shortly before Diem was assassinated. After that event things picked up. Gradually American forces there were built up.

McNAMARA seemed to have such a poor understanding of what was happening meanwhile, and of what lay ahead, that as late as 1964 he told Congress even if the war didn't go well this country should still withdraw most of its troops by 1965.

He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war, which was true. But that always had been true. And if the South Vietnamese had been left to themselves, the Communists would have overwhelmed them, which was exactly what this country didn't want.

And there were McNamra's seemingly endless expeditions to Viet Nam for a look-see and his returns with statements almost always sunny, like "things are progressing very well out there" or "the Vietnamese are on the right track" when, as it turned out, things weren't and the Vietnamese weren't.

Over the weekend the American commander in Viet Nam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, flew to Johnson's Texas ranch and talked with him four hours about problems, present and future. Then the men met with reporters.

Then — this was the confident part—Johnson said the Communists will not defeat the American forces in Viet Nam and that a victory for them is not only "improbable" but "impossible."

THEN HE stood under this gloomy umbrella: although he said the Reds can't win, he admitted he doesn't know when they finally will stop trying to.

Or, as he put it: "The single most important factor now is our will to prosecute the war until the Communists, recognizing the futility of their ambitions, either end the fighting, or seek a peaceful settlement."

And further, because no one can say when the Communists will admit they can't win, no one can say now how many more Americans will be needed in Viet Nam to convince them.

At this moment there are about 291,000 American troops in South Viet Nam and Westmoreland said more than that will be needed, although he didn't say how many.

But he did reveal there are 280,000 enemy Viet Cong in South Viet Nam. The North Vietnamese are sending in more all the time.

Sweden's System Explained

Sweden has strong labor. It has a prosperous business world. Yet it's heavily automated and has virtually no strikes or unemployment. Prime Minister Tage Erlander, substituting for Victor Riesel, tells just how it is done in his country.

By TAGE ERLANDER

STOCKHOLM — Abroad, Sweden is oftentimes depicted as a country where the social welfare system gives basic security "from the cradle to the grave." By and large this is a correct description, at least in the sense that the system protects the individual and the family against those worries for the future that used to haunt man.

It's sometimes argued that the highly developed social security system tends to kill both initiative and private efforts to save for rainy days. However, there is no evidence that this is the case.

On the contrary it gives us a free choice to save for other things. It also gives a free choice for developing gifts and talents, to realize the possibilities within us.

A poor man, a man who always fears the economic consequences of being unemployed or old, can never feel free in any meaningful sense of that word. The concepts of freedom and social security are not contradictory but complementary.

THE SEARCH FOR SECURITY is the most profound motive power in the struggle for human dignity. But the realization of the dreams of a social welfare state is a difficult task. A prerequisite is that we have the economic resources.

In Europe it used to be said that this problem could best be solved through a system of free competition. This conservative approach is in and of itself correct. In some countries the result has been a rapid progress but unfortunately only for those who happened to be on the sunny side.

In Sweden we have tried to form a synthesis between efficiency and righteousness, between progress and social security. In our experience, there is no conflict between these objectives since security also has a positive influence on business productivity and therefore on the possibilities of increasing the rate of growth in the economy.

The dream of a society designed to protect the individual against unemployment, illness and poverty during his late years, has found its expression in Sweden since the end of the 19th century. But it was only in the 1930s that it gained momentum, due above all to the worldwide depression that also hit Sweden severely.

Many workers were out of a job; many farmers could not sell their products. The workers and farmers found each other in a greatly planned recovery policy, economically guided by the principles of John Maynard Keynes.

This was the start, and on this ground we have tried to build up a society based on solidarity and cooperation. Out of the depression was born a new society, where government, business and labor have reached a very high degree of voluntary cooperation. These tendencies and these ties were strengthened by and during the second World War, and the new society firmly established demonstrated strength and value during the difficult postwar years.

IN MANY COUNTRIES the trade unions have opposed the process of rationalization out of fear of unemployment. In Sweden, however, the workers themselves and their trade unions have a very positive attitude toward rationalization and relocation of industries and they strongly back the policy of mobility and flexibility.

This is not as curious as it might seem at first glance. For if the citizen can trust the government when he comes into difficulties of various kinds, then his attitude will be positive. This means that security could be considered as an important factor of economic growth.

It's not enough to talk about capital and labor as aggregative concepts. Labor for instance, has to be qualified in terms of skill and attitude to rationalizations and other changes.

We consider it a duty of society to protect the individual in a situation for which he is not himself responsible. Our philosophy is that rapid and necessary changes of the economic structure must not create fear but confidence for the future.

Particularly, the policy of full employment is important to explain the positive attitude of the trade unions. It now is conceived to be the task of the government to guarantee full employment, but not through tariffs against competition from abroad and not by opposing developments where manpower is replaced by machines.

THE INDIVIDUAL must always feel that society is going to help him to get a new job, to get settled at a new place, to be retrained if necessary.

If the worker trusts the society in these respects he has no reason to fear changes of industrial life, even if these changes mean that he is going to lose the job he has held for a long time. On the contrary, he knows that the result will be a better living for himself as well as for all citizens of the society.

Therefore, it could be concluded that there is no conflict between the rate of economic growth and the rate of security, even if this ratio cannot be put into any quantitative formula.

The philosophy behind the welfare policy, however, is not predominantly that it results in a more stable and a faster rate of growth. Even if social security should imply a slower rate of growth it is, nevertheless, a right policy from the individual point of view.

Brakes Slammed On Rights Action

Congress at last is beginning to reflect an important wish of the people — that civil rights laws should not be enacted hastily. It's significant that 38 members of the House of Representatives who supported legislation on the subject two years ago switched this week to vote against President Johnson's 1966 bill. Most are from the Northern and Western states.

David Lawrence

This doesn't mean that all the objectives of the civil rights proponents are being questioned, but it does mean that the extremist tactics of some of the civil rights groups and the incitement to violence have aroused the on-looking voters. They have communicated to their representatives in Congress a series of vehement protests which say, in effect, that the scope of civil rights doesn't include the right to engage in uncivil behavior.

What is happening is that "white power" is starting to assert itself against misuse of "black power." Race consciousness has been intensified, instead of diminished, as the provisions of the bill prohibiting any form of discrimination in the sale or rental of houses or apartments have stirred strong feelings in almost every community. Fear of a drop in real estate values is one of the underlying causes of the widespread concern.

WHILE THE HOUSE passed this week a watered-down version of the administration's bill, the measure got only a 259 vote as compared with 290 for the civil rights law of 1964.

Behind the scenes there has been a good deal of discussion among members of Congress, many of whom say privately that they have become apprehensive about the political consequences of any "open housing" section being put into the bill for the right to sell or rent one's property to a white friend at a lower price than to a stranger who is a Negro is something the average voter considers to be an individual right which the owner should be allowed to exercise without the risk of a lawsuit.

The next important stage in the legislative battle comes in the Senate. Already Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic majority leader, has decided to wait until after Labor Day before pressing a Senate committee to report out its bill. He openly concedes that a filibustering debate cannot be ended with the passage of a cloture motion unless Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., co-operates. Mr. Dirksen has expressed severe criticism of the bill and wants some substantial changes made. He has declared, for instance, that he doesn't believe the "open housing" section is constitutional.

THE ADMINISTRATION is well aware that the bill faces some strong opposition in the Senate and may not even come to a vote unless the proponents are willing to modify the measure considerably.

The change in the tide of public opinion is affecting both political parties. The shift is by no means completed. In the big cities where the Democratic machines exercise control, members of the House who want to see some restraint on extremism are worried. They fear defeat. The handwriting on the political wall is plain. Plenty of discontent on issues other than civil rights also is emerging, and the Republicans may be beneficiaries of the protest vote without themselves taking positive positions on controversial questions.

This is not a novel development. It has happened often in American history that a president will lose the House of Representatives in a mid-term election. The Republicans aren't betting now on such an outcome but privately they count on winning a surprising total of seats in November.

What has induced this trend? While the Viet Nam War and the rise in the cost of living are important factors, dissatisfaction is growing generally because of so many disturbing occurrences, including the big city riots and the strike that has tied up air travel and delayed the mails.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, therefore, are especially sensitive to what the people are saying today. One thing the legislators have learned thus far is that many voters are becoming fed up with civil rights demonstrations and the riots.

The consensus seems to be that Congress should no longer be stampeded or intimidated into passing laws demanded by mobs but should do what's right—consider carefully what is constitutional and what is really workable.

This 'n That

It is generally believed that James Madison was the first to use the term "cabinet" when referring to the U.S. presidents' group of advisers. The first recorded meeting of this group, held in 1791 by President George Washington, included the secretaries of state, war and Treasury and the attorney general.

The median age at which American women are marrying today is about 20 years. The average American wife has 2.03 children and the number of women with three or more children has doubled within the last 20 years.

The largest county in the United States is San Bernardino County, California. It covers more than 20,000 square miles — almost as much area as that of Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey combined.

Arraignment Set In London Police Killing

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard, aided by an unprecedented flow of information from London's underworld, has charged John Edward Witney with being one of the murderers of three unarmed policemen. He faces arraignment today.

The charge was placed against Witney, 36, described as unemployed, less than 72 hours after the crime that shocked Britain.

It said he was responsible "with others" for the murders of detectives Christopher Tippett, David Stanley Wombell and Geoffrey Roger Fox.

The shooting of the three policemen Friday near Wormwood Scrubs Prison in West London touched off the biggest manhunt in London's history. Nearly 20,000 police and detectives were thrown into the hunt.

The underworld helped. Police said well-known criminals have been donating money to the families of the slain men as well as supplying information.

British criminals traditionally avoid — and are revolted by — police killing. British police, except in rare circumstances, are unarmed.

The three policemen were slain as they stopped to question three men in an aged, pale blue station wagon. It had a souped-up engine capable of more than 90 miles an hour.

Police questioned a man who said he had sold the car to a stranger for $42 less than three hours before the crime.

It was found Sunday in a dingy garage underneath a railway arch near London's Waterloo Station. Police were tipped off by a woman who saw it being driven in. The woman's name is being withheld and she is under police protection as are other persons who have aided the inquiry.

The murdered men were members of an undercover squad who acted more or less independently and the Yard did not know what particular trail they were following at the time they were killed.

The suspicion in official quarters was that they were on the trail of one of the big gangs operating in the metropolis.

Board Finishes Action On Carroll 'Transfer'

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education adopted a resolution Monday night accepting the transfer of Elmer Lohman's 80-acre farm in Fox Township, Carroll County, to the Southern Local District.

This duplicated action taken June 21 which was premature according to law, County Supt. James L. McBride explained, because the county board did not have the formal action of transfer from the Carrollton village Board of Education.

Mr. and Mrs. Lohman whose farm is on the Carroll - Columbiana county line petitioned for the transfer more than two years ago. Their children always have attended nearby Salineville in the Columbiana system because Carrollton did not route a bus to their farm.

The Carrollton board made the transfer this spring and received state approval June 13. The transferring board then had 30 days to forward the papers to the Columbiana board.

Mrs. Maryann Volk of Niles began work yesterday as intern psychologist for the county school system and was introduced last night by Hubert Lawrence, county system psychologist.

The internship will be supervised by Kent State University, where Mrs. Volk is enrolled. She was graduated from Youngstown University in 1962 and taught in Champion, Niles and Warren. A year's work as intern is required for certification as a school psychologist.

President Allan G. Chamberlin of Leetonia R. D. 2 was named delegate to the Ohio School Boards Association convention Nov. 10-11 at Columbus. Donald Elliott of Rogers, who will attend as an OSBA trustee, will be alternate.

A letter from Byron Morton, assistant superindent of public instruction, informed the board county board budgets submitted for approval Monday, Aug. 8, were tabled until the September meeting.

Morton said this was due to the hearing on rules and regulations covering the purchase of school buses which prevented state board members from reviewing the budgets before the August meeting.

The county board approved payment of bills totaling $821. The next meeting will be Monday, Sept. 19.

Albert A. Raby, convenor of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, said at Monday night's assembly:

"We will not stop marching because verbal promises have been made. The marches and demonstrations will continue until Negroes can move into housing wherever they choose."

Civic leaders continued plans for a meeting on housing Wednesday. The American Nazi party, whose rally Sunday triggered a battle between white residents and police at Marquette Park, said they would hold a counterdemonstration at today's protests and future demonstrations.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is expected to attend Wednesday's meeting convened by the Chicago Conference on Religion and Race. The Rt. Rev. James W. Montgomery, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago and chairman of the CCRR, has reiterated the conference was called to discuss open housing, not to call a halt to the marches.

Some 1,100 marchers staged simultaneous demonstrations in three areas Sunday. An equal number of police prevented jeering, profane white spectators from carrying out threats to the integrated protest lines.

However, at Marquette Park, police resorted to firing pistols in the air and swinging nightsticks to subdue whites who taunted police and stoned Negro passersby in a violent reaction to the marches.

Police Cmdr. Martin O'Connell, head of the district encompassing Marquette Park, said Monday a speech by an American Nazi party member incited the whites in the park. O'Connell said police could not arrest anyone on the basis of membership in the party but would arrest persons who make speeches which are "an incitement to riot."

Attempt At Entry Foiled By Police At East Palestine

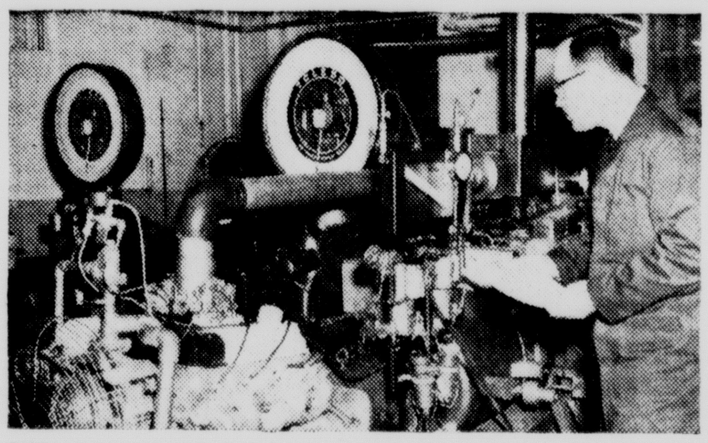

EAST PALESTINE — Approach of officers on routine patrol apparently frightened away a would - be intruder who was attempting to force entry at the Sports Center at 75 N. Market St. this morning at 2:15.

Police said damage to the rear door was discovered in a routine check. The door had been damaged, but entry had not been forced. The would-be intruder apparently fled hurriedly, as tools were discarded at the scene. Robert Helman is the operator.

Meanwhile, officers said no clues have been uncovered in the theft of $350 in currency Aug. 9 from the safe in the office at the McCommon Hardware at 118 N. Market St.

The money was taken during the lunch hour when there was no one in the office, officers said. The door was closed, but not locked. Mrs. Dorothy McCommon is the operator.

Trio Injured In Mishap On Taylor's Bend

Three persons were treated at City Hospital this morning for injuries received when a careening auto struck a telephone pole alongside dangerous Taylor's Bend on Route 30, near Chester.

Arraignment Set In London Police Killing

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard, aided by an unprecedented flow of information from London's underworld, has charged John Edward Witney with being one of the murderers of three unarmed policemen. He faces arraignment today.

The charge was placed against Witney, 36, described as unemployed, less than 72 hours after the crime that shocked Britain.

It said he was responsible "with others" for the murders of detectives Christopher Tippett, David Stanley Wombell and Geoffrey Roger Fox.

The shooting of the three policemen Friday near Wormwood Scrubs Prison in West London touched off the biggest manhunt in London's history. Nearly 20,000 police and detectives were thrown into the hunt.

The underworld helped. Police said well-known criminals have been donating money to the families of the slain men as well as supplying information.

British criminals traditionally avoid — and are revolted by — police killing. British police, except in rare circumstances, are unarmed.

The three policemen were slain as they stopped to question three men in an aged, pale blue station wagon. It had a souped-up engine capable of more than 90 miles an hour.

Police questioned a man who said he had sold the car to a stranger for $42 less than three hours before the crime.

It was found Sunday in a dingy garage underneath a railway arch near London's Waterloo Station. Police were tipped off by a woman who saw it being driven in. The woman's name is being withheld and she is under police protection as are other persons who have aided the inquiry.

The murdered men were members of an undercover squad who acted more or less independently and the Yard did not know what particular trail they were following at the time they were killed.

The suspicion in official quarters was that they were on the trail of one of the big gangs operating in the metropolis.

Board Finishes Action On Carroll 'Transfer'

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education adopted a resolution Monday night accepting the transfer of Elmer Lohman's 80-acre farm in Fox Township, Carroll County, to the Southern Local District.

This duplicated action taken June 21 which was premature according to law, County Supt. James L. McBride explained, because the county board did not have the formal action of transfer from the Carrollton village Board of Education.

Mr. and Mrs. Lohman whose farm is on the Carroll - Columbiana county line petitioned for the transfer more than two years ago. Their children always have attended nearby Salineville in the Columbiana system because Carrollton did not route a bus to their farm.

The Carrollton board made the transfer this spring and received state approval June 13. The transferring board then had 30 days to forward the papers to the Columbiana board.

Mrs. Maryann Volk of Niles began work yesterday as intern psychologist for the county school system and was introduced last night by Hubert Lawrence, county system psychologist.

The internship will be supervised by Kent State University, where Mrs. Volk is enrolled. She was graduated from Youngstown University in 1962 and taught in Champion, Niles and Warren. A year's work as intern is required for certification as a school psychologist.

President Allan G. Chamberlin of Leetonia R. D. 2 was named delegate to the Ohio School Boards Association convention Nov. 10-11 at Columbus. Donald Elliott of Rogers, who will attend as an OSBA trustee, will be alternate.

A letter from Byron Morton, assistant superindent of public instruction, informed the board county board budgets submitted for approval Monday, Aug. 8, were tabled until the September meeting.

Morton said this was due to the hearing on rules and regulations covering the purchase of school buses which prevented state board members from reviewing the budgets before the August meeting.

The county board approved payment of bills totaling $821. The next meeting will be Monday, Sept. 19.

Albert A. Raby, convenor of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, said at Monday night's assembly:

"We will not stop marching because verbal promises have been made. The marches and demonstrations will continue until Negroes can move into housing wherever they choose."

Civic leaders continued plans for a meeting on housing Wednesday. The American Nazi party, whose rally Sunday triggered a battle between white residents and police at Marquette Park, said they would hold a counterdemonstration at today's protests and future demonstrations.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is expected to attend Wednesday's meeting convened by the Chicago Conference on Religion and Race. The Rt. Rev. James W. Montgomery, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago and chairman of the CCRR, has reiterated the conference was called to discuss open housing, not to call a halt to the marches.

Some 1,100 marchers staged simultaneous demonstrations in three areas Sunday. An equal number of police prevented jeering, profane white spectators from carrying out threats to the integrated protest lines.

However, at Marquette Park, police resorted to firing pistols in the air and swinging nightsticks to subdue whites who taunted police and stoned Negro passersby in a violent reaction to the marches.

Police Cmdr. Martin O'Connell, head of the district encompassing Marquette Park, said Monday a speech by an American Nazi party member incited the whites in the park. O'Connell said police could not arrest anyone on the basis of membership in the party but would arrest persons who make speeches which are "an incitement to riot."

Attempt At Entry Foiled By Police At East Palestine

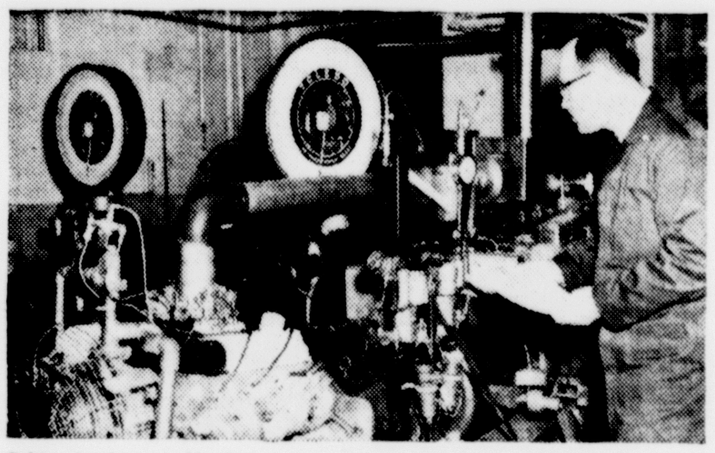

EAST PALESTINE — Approach of officers on routine patrol apparently frightened away a would - be intruder who was attempting to force entry at the Sports Center at 75 N. Market St. this morning at 2:15.

Police said damage to the rear door was discovered in a routine check. The door had been damaged, but entry had not been forced. The would-be intruder apparently fled hurriedly, as tools were discarded at the scene. Robert Helman is the operator.

Meanwhile, officers said no clues have been uncovered in the theft of $350 in currency Aug. 9 from the safe in the office at the McCommon Hardware at 118 N. Market St.

The money was taken during the lunch hour when there was no one in the office, officers said. The door was closed, but not locked. Mrs. Dorothy McCommon is the operator.

Burial Benefits Reviewed

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Veterans Administration will pay burial expenses up to $250 for a veteran of the Spanish-American War, World Wars I or II, or Korea.

Peacetime veterans retired for a disability incurred in the line of duty are eligible as are peacetime veterans receiving a service-connected compensation.

Burial in a national cemetery is available to any honorably discharged veteran of wartime or peacetime services. Reservists who die while performing active duty for training also are eligible.

—:—

BURIAL USUALLY is also available for the wife, husband, widow, widower and minor children of eligible veterans. Unmarried adult children of eligible veterans are also eligible if the're physically or mentally dependent.

If an eligible veteran's husband or wife, minor child or eligible adult child dies before the veteran dies, he (or she) may be buried in a national cemetery. But the veteran must file a written statement saying that his intention is to be buried at the same spot.

Applications should go to the superintendent of the national cemetery in which burial is desired. But any VA office will provide information and other assistance in filing burial request applications.

A United States flag will be provided to drape the caskets of veterans who have served in wartime, including Korea, and all veterans who have served in the post-Korea cold war period.

Applications for headstones and markers and memorial plots in national cemeteries administered by the Army Department should go to the Chief of Support Services Department of the Army, Washington, D. C. 20310.

Applications for memorial plots in national cemeteries administered by the Interior Department should go to the Director, National Park Service, Washington D. C. 20240.

But any VA office will provide information and other assistance in filing headstone, grave marker or memorial plot applications.

WIDOWS AND children of servicemen who die on active duty are entitled to a "Six Months' Death Gratuity."

This is a sum equal to six months' pay of the deceased serviceman, including special incentive, hazard and basic pay, but not allowances.

Regardless of the monthly pay of the serviceman, the amount by law may not be less than $800 nor more than $3,000.

This death gratuity is over and above the monthly disability and indemnity compensation.

The payment normally will be made to the veteran's widow or children. But it may be allotted to parents, brothers or sisters if the veteran so designates.

This gratuity payment is normally made by the command to which the veteran was attached. If it is not received within a reasonable time, application should be made to the service in which the veteran served—Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps or Coast Guard.

Hired were Sidney Ames of Petersburg for industrial arts, William Compston of Easton, Pa., for 7th grade social studies and Mrs. Kay Rambo of East Liverpool for sixth grade at the Public School.

Compston replaces Vincent Ricci of Aliquippa, whose resignation was accepted by the board. He plans to teach in Aliquippa.

The cafeteria committee of the board will meet Monday night to complete plans for the opening of school Sept. 6.

It was announced the district's 29 school buses will be inspected at the bus garage Wednesday. Previously, the buses were scheduled for inspection at Lisbon, but the Ohio Highway Patrol agreed to visit the garage because of the larger number of buses to be checked.

The board will meet Sept. 12.

Driver Fined And Jailed In Traffic Case

Fines totaling $60 and costs and a 15-day jail term were imposed today in Municipal Court on an East End motorist following his arrest early this morning for three alleged traffic violations.

Jerry McDole of 519½ 1st Ave. was given the County Jail term on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. He was fined $50 and costs for operating a motor vehicle with license plates issued for another car and $10 and costs on a charge of driving a car without tail lights.

McDole pleated guilty to all three counts before Judge Samuel M.. Chertoff. He was cited at 1:06 this morning on Pennsylvania Ave. by Patrolman J. W. Buckley. The officer told the court he halted McDole because the tail lights of the car were not operating. Then he learned the man did not have a driver's license and the auto registration was improper, he said.

Judge Chertoff set a hearing Wednesday morning for Albert Rosenbaum of 101 Thompson Ave., arrested at 11:56 p. m. Monday on Pennsylvania Ave. by Buckley on a charge of driving an auto while under the influence of alcohol. Rosenbaum pleaded not guilty.

Richard J. Clark, assistant city solicitor, asked a continuance to summon other officers as witnesses. The judge set Rosenbaum's appearance bond at $500.

William F. Fogo of 1795 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Aug. 10 on Route 7 by the State Highway Patrol.

Lisbon Club To Hear Convention Review

LISBON — James M. Giffin and Ralph Martin of the Salem Kiwanis Club will report on the 51st international convention to the Lisbon Club Thursday noon in the Eagles Home.

Giffin, owner of Stark Memorial, Inc., and Martin, production manager at the E. W. Bliss Co., were Salem's delegates to the convention July 1-5 at Portland, Ore.

Carl Turk is program chairman. President Cornell P. Monda will preside.

Monda has appointed three past presidents — Donald Lewis, John Beck and James McBride—a committee to nominate a member to fill the unexpired term of Director Ed Goodballet, who resigned last week.

New Principal Sought For Fairfield School

LISBON — The Columbiana County school system is in search of a principal for Fairfield School in Fairfield-Waterford School District.

County Supt. James L. McBride said he has received no applications since the Fairfield-Waterford board last Wednesday employed Calvin Graber, former Fairfield principal, to be district superintendent.

Fairfield School has approximately 400 pupils and is located on county road 420 south of Columbiana. Fairfield has kindergarten, Grades 1-5 and Grades 7-8.

Administrators interested may apply to McBride in the county office on the third floor of the Courthouse.

Lisbon Driver Cited After Route 39 Crash

A Lisbon area man was cited after his pickup truck struck the rear of a young woman's car on Route 39 about 5½ miles south of 164 Monday afternoon the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Walter Himes, 53, of Lisbon R. D. 4 was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance, following the mishap at 4:45 p. m.

Officers said his 1966 truck hit the rear of an eastbound 1960 Volkswagen operated by Judy Woodburn, 20, of Hammondsville R. D. 1 who had stopped to make a left turn onto a township road. Neither was injured, officers added.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Claim 2 More Lives

By The Associated Press

One of the drivers involved in an Interstate 71 collision and a pedestrian are among the state's latest traffic accident death victims.

The dead:

Charles F. Johnson, 45, Columbia Station.

Louise J. Allen, 5, Creston

Johnson's car collided with a truck tractor Monday in a three-vehicle crash on a section of Interstate 71 southeast of Delaware, where northbound lanes had been closed for resurfacing and two-way traffic was moving on the southbound side.

Court Orders Arrest For 2

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered bench warrants for the arrest of two East End men who failed to appear for scheduled hearings on charges of violating the city income tax ordinance.

The defendants were identified as Hollie Starcher of 1816 Harvey Ave. and Will Mercer of 1175 Erie St. When the two are taken into custody, they must post $100 bonds to guarantee their appearance, the judge ordered. Each is accused of failure to file a final return on 1965 income and an estimate on 1966 earnings.

Three other defendants were told to confer with Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson, who filed the affidavits, in an attempt to straighten out their accounts.

They are Lynwood Wilson of 2100 Crawford Ave., Bernard Veglia of 1702 Alpha St. and Ronald Roach of 1051 Pennsylvania Ave.

Wilson pleaded not guilty. Wilkinson said the office records show Wilson paid his 1964 tax in 1966 but has not paid amounts due for either 1965 or 1966.

Veglia contended he is not required to pay the tax because his home is outside the city limits. In addition, he said, he is employed at Sebring.

The judge announced he has granted a continuance until Wednesday in the case of Everett Athey of 711 E. 4th St., also charged with failure to file a final return on 1965 or furnish an estimate for 1966.

Biggins Resumes Job

LISBON — Russell Biggins of East Palestine, a deputy in the sheriff's office at the Courthouse, returned to work this morning after an absence of eight weeks for surgery and recuperation.

in all probability we will have to purchase another and add employes to the street department payroll to do the work," Sample said. "It also will be costly to the property owners who don't cut their weeds."

Maylone said many lots likely to become weed-grown are on hillsides, where the growth would have to be cut with expensive hand labor, rather than machine.

Duffy asserted that the councilmen seemed to be worried mostly about the expense to the city.

"The city should do its share," he said. "Get rid of some of the deadwood around City Hall and use the money to cut the weeds!"

Murray asked what Duffy meant by "deadwood around City Hall."

Duffy said he recalled a former Council sought to eliminate the jobs of mayor's clerk and assistant city solicitor, among others, and added that Murray was a member of the committee that recommended eliminating the posts.

"I think you're still putting this in the hands of Council, to see that the weeds are cut," Maylone said.

"It doesn't say Council has to cut the weeds, Maylone," Duffy replied.

Lowe remarked that a Neighborhood Youth Corps program should be operating on a regular basis in 1967 and perhaps the youths could be utilized to help cut weeds.

The discussion was ended and the legislation was read for the first time. Council recessed for five minutes to discuss the ordinance privately. Then the vote was taken that resulted in the 5-2 split.

—:—

IN OTHER business, Council voted, 5-1, to retain a guard rail along W. 4th St. near the Freeway, rather than removing a section to allow parking of private cars. Duffy suggested removal of the barrier, but Murray said his street committee's investigation indicated it should be allowed to remain in place.

Murray said he could foresee legal responsibility for the city if removal of the guard rail led to damage claims. Duffy said the residents of the neighborhood need the additional space for off-street parking.

A motion to approve Murray's report was approved, 6-1, with Duffy dissenting.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey relayed a request from School Supt. Paul Blair asking that the city employ two more school crossing guards for duty along Harvey Ave. Closing of the Klondyke School means that more youngsters will walk to Neville School and additional guards will be needed along Harvey Ave., the superintendent said.

Murray said the employment of the guards should be a school responsibility because the school system created the problem with closing of the Klondyke Building. He said a guard now on duty at Harvey Ave. and Putnam St. should be transferred to Harvey Ave. and Elizabeth St.

Council unanimously approved a motion rejecting Blair's request.

Mrs. Wilson reported she received "very strong protests" from the First Church of the Nazarene on an application for issuance of a beer and wine carry-out permit for a new Kroger Co. store at Walnut and Minerva Sts., directly across the street from the church. She said the protests have been passed on to the State Liquor Control Board at Columbus, which is processing the application.

LOWE, reporting for the claims committee, reported approval of three bills against the city. They include: George Martin of Hammondsville, $36 for damage to his auto when it was hit June 20 at 3rd and Market Sts. by a city truck, and Thomas Frederick of 735 Bradshaw Ave., $245 for damage to a retaining wall in Ryder Alley hit by a city incinerator department truck.

The committee also recommended paying half of a $16 bill filed by Ruth Dunn of 446 1st Ave., who said her property was damaged March 11 when a sewer backed up and flooded her cellar.

The committee was given three more claims against the city for investigation.

Mrs. Robert Rice of 1010 Huston Ave. asked $7 for a towing charge she said resulted after her auto went into a ditch at Minerva St. and Riley Ave. following a street washout. Elizabeth Finley of 709 Sophia St. asked $452 for alleged damage to a wall of her garage. She said the wall was damaged by a tree growing on city property. Earl Kimes of 320 W. 4th St. filed a claim for alleged damage to the front of his auto when it hit a guard rail on the city-owned parking lot adjoining City Hall.

Mayor George E. Willshaw read a letter from the State Health Department granting the city a renewal through July 1967 of its permit to discharge sewage into the Ohio River.

In the meantime, the city must plan construction of sewer systems in the Alton St., Gardendale and Orchard Grove Ave. Ext. areas, as well as the eastern section of Pleasant Heights; take steps to eliminate storm water from sanitary sewers; submit regular reports on operation of the sewage treatment plant and file a map showing all unsewered areas, the letter said.

In renewing the city's sewage permits, the state always stipulates conditions which it says must be corrected in the ensuing year.

MRS. WILSON said residents of Vine and Ravine Sts. have asked legislation to ban parking on one side of each thoroughfare. The street committee was asked to investigate.

Duffy, as chairman of the franchise committee, said he has been unable to arrange an appointment with Alfred Gloeckner, operator of the Yellow Cab Co., to discuss complaints which Council has received on the service. Murray suggested he ask Police Chief A. J. Radeschi to make the appointment and then accompany him to the interview with the cab operator.

Council approved payment of an $89.95 claim from Thelma Strauss of 637 Youngs Alley for alleged damage to her property on April 23 when a storm sewer broke and flooded her lawn and cellar.

Duffy said he is continuing to receive complaints that storm water drainage along Pennsylvania is inadequate. Lack of proper sewers and the relatively low height of curbs cause flooding of cellars during heavy rains he said.

Because the next regular session would fall on Labor Day, Council voted to meet instead on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Stadium Group Short Of Mark

CINCINNATI (AP) — Architects have agreed to continue preliminary work on the city's proposed stadium although a public drive to collect money to pay them fell short of its $250,000 goal.

Chamber of Commerce President Thomas Stainback said Monday night $222,329 had been collected and the drive will be continued until the goal is reached.

RICHARD K. WOLF of 920 Peake St., who was in the audience at last night's meeting, read the following letter received by a local resident in answer to one written to W. D. Darling, assistant superintendent of the Ohio Department of Education:

"I have your letter of Aug. 3, 1966 concerning the East Liverpool school building program. I believe that Mr. Essex, our new superintendent of public instruction, is answering your questions concerning the undue delay in this program.

"The allegation of a million dollar mistake is, to me, incomprehensible. The estimated cost of the building was based on costs during the previous year in your section of Ohio. These cost tables are prepared with great care and have proven over the years to be as accurate as estimates can be. The truth of the matter is that the East Liverpool Board or their superintendent insisted on planning facilities that are well beyond what our department has established as minimum essentials. In the meantime, costs have risen rapidly, in some areas as much as 20 per cent, due to inflation. The East Liverpool Board of Education accepted the estimates and, as I understand it, were assured that the proposed buildings could be built within the estimated budget.

"There is a procedure by which additional funds can be secured if there is positive proof of need. We cannot go to the State Board of Education and the State Controlling Board for additional funds unless we can honestly show that all reasonable economies have been used.

"We never insisted that electric heat be used. Our experience over the years has been that it costs less to install electric heat, but more to operate it. The East Liverpool board had its free choice in this matter."

The board refuted Darling's statement relative to electric heat, pointing out that T. V. Utterback, chief of the building division of the Ohio Department of Education, had advised it to turn to electric heat because of higher installation costs of other systems.

Wolfe also posed this question to the board: "In answer to my question 'What investigation was made into the accident in which a car owned by the Board of Education and operated by Coach McNea was involved?' Mr. McConville corrected me by saying this car is owned by the Athletic Association.

"If this is so, I feel the accident report at City Hall should be corrected as it lists the Board of Education as owner. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles and the title at Central Service both list East Liverpool High School as the owner."

McConville, a member of the board, again pointed out that the car in question is not owned by the school board.

When preparing to submit a second question relative to illegal football practice here, Wolf was informed by Mrs. Dunlop, as board president, that the matter was regarded as "closed."

Mrs. William Sutherland, also speaking from the audience, expressed concern over the promotional campaign being conducted on behalf of the 3.5-mill levy which will be submitted in November.

Asking what is being done, she was informed by the board that a meeting has been held with members of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools relative to such promotion and that the Ohio School Board Association has promised to assist in any way that it can.

Board Considers Barn At Hancock Children's Home

The possibility of building a new barn alongside the Hancock County Children's Home was discussed at the meeting of the board of trustees Monday night at the home on Gas Valley Rd., near Pughtown.

James Finley, chairman, appointed a committee consisting of himself, Charles Padden and Norman Ferrari to look into the matter and make recommendations.

Omar Harmon, farm manager, requested permission to sell surplus chickens and secure one or more additional calves. The board recommended that approval be given by the county court in its next meeting.

The board recommended that the playground area at the home be blacktopped. Present last night were Finley, Dick Wright, Arnold Anderson, Ernest John and Charles Miller. Finley presided.

The next meeting will be Sept. 19.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some 300 Republicans and Democrats, including 17 candidates for office, took a 2½-hour boat ride on the Ohio River Monday night.

The cruise was sponsored by the Crucible Steel Co. of America as part of a continuing program to encourage employe interest in political activity.

Among the guests were Milton J. Shapp, Democratic candidate for governor, and Leonard C. Staisey and Raymond J. Broderick, Democratic and Republican candidates, respectively, for lieutenant governor.

Shapp commented that the cruise "was probably the first time that a private corporation tried to take both parties for a ride."

Permission was granted for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Smith of Lakeview Estates to attend the local school system. The Smiths will pay the youth's tuition.

RICHARD K. WOLF of 920 Peake St., who was in the audience at last night's meeting, read the following letter received by a local resident in answer to one written to W. D. Darling, assistant superintendent of the Ohio Department of Education:

"I have your letter of Aug. 3, 1966 concerning the East Liverpool school building program. I believe that Mr. Essex, our new superintendent of public instruction, is answering your questions concerning the undue delay in this program.

"The allegation of a million dollar mistake is, to me, incomprehensible. The estimated cost of the building was based on costs during the previous year in your section of Ohio. These cost tables are prepared with great care and have proven over the years to be as accurate as estimates can be. The truth of the matter is that the East Liverpool Board or their superintendent insisted on planning facilities that are well beyond what our department has established as minimum essentials. In the meantime, costs have risen rapidly, in some areas as much as 20 per cent, due to inflation. The East Liverpool Board of Education accepted the estimates and, as I understand it, were assured that the proposed buildings could be built within the estimated budget.

"There is a procedure by which additional funds can be secured if there is positive proof of need. We cannot go to the State Board of Education and the State Controlling Board for additional funds unless we can honestly show that all reasonable economies have been used.

"We never insisted that electric heat be used. Our experience over the years has been that it costs less to install electric heat, but more to operate it. The East Liverpool board had its free choice in this matter."

The board refuted Darling's statement relative to electric heat, pointing out that T. V. Utterback, chief of the building division of the Ohio Department of Education, had advised it to turn to electric heat because of higher installation costs of other systems.

Wolfe also posed this question to the board: "In answer to my question 'What investigation was made into the accident in which a car owned by the Board of Education and operated by Coach McNea was involved?' Mr. McConville corrected me by saying this car is owned by the Athletic Association.

"If this is so, I feel the accident report at City Hall should be corrected as it lists the Board of Education as owner. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles and the title at Central Service both list East Liverpool High School as the owner."

McConville, a member of the board, again pointed out that the car in question is not owned by the school board.

When preparing to submit a second question relative to illegal football practice here, Wolf was informed by Mrs. Dunlop, as board president, that the matter was regarded as "closed."

Mrs. William Sutherland, also speaking from the audience, expressed concern over the promotional campaign being conducted on behalf of the 3.5-mill levy which will be submitted in November.

Asking what is being done, she was informed by the board that a meeting has been held with members of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools relative to such promotion and that the Ohio School Board Association has promised to assist in any way that it can.

Cut lemon slices wafer thin. Place in a large bowl and, with a potato masher, mash the juice and oil from the rind. Add this to water for real good lemonade.

Board Considers Barn At Hancock Children's Home

The possibility of building a new barn alongside the Hancock County Children's Home was discussed at the meeting of the board of trustees Monday night at the home on Gas Valley Rd., near Pughtown.

James Finley, chairman, appointed a committee consisting of himself, Charles Padden and Norman Ferrari to look into the matter and make recommendations.

Omar Harmon, farm manager, requested permission to sell surplus chickens and secure one or more additional calves. The board recommended that approval be given by the county court in its next meeting.

The board recommended that the playground area at the home be blacktopped. Present last night were Finley, Dick Wright, Arnold Anderson, Ernest John and Charles Miller. Finley presided.

The next meeting will be Sept. 19.

Add lots of parsley sprigs to tomato juice and refrigerate overnight. Remove the parsley before serving — it will have added subtle flavor to the juice.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: They're still pouring in—letters from readers who have experienced life, first-hand, with an unfaithful spouse. Even their children have written to unburden themselves. Here is a letter from a teenage boy in Honolulu:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please stop telling parents to stay together for their children's sake. Children don't need a father who runs around and lies and spends money on girls. When Mom finally told Dad to get out I was glad. You can't imagine how good it is to sleep at night instead of shivering under the covers because your folks are screaming at each other.

-:-

ANCHORAGE — I'm only 15 but I have made up my mind to one thing. If ever I get married I will pick out somebody I can live with for the rest of my life. Dad and Mother were divorced when I was 12. My sisters were 14 and 11. A boy needs a father. An uncle or a friend or a neighbor won't do. My mother kicked my dad out. He really didn't want to go. I miss Dad and I will always resent my mother for what she did. He wasn't what you'd call a great dad but at least he was here and we were a family.

KALAMAZOO — I loved my husband but I had to get rid of him—doctor's orders. Whenever he came near me I broke out in hives and got asthma. After I divorced him his eczema disappeared so we are both better off.

-:-

DETROIT — My wife accused me of having another woman for years. When I finally "confessed" and begged her to forgive me she was overjoyed. We've had a good marriage for over 40 years. What she doesn't know is that there never was another woman. I had to invent one to satisfy her.

SAN JOSE — I stayed with my two-timing skunk and I do believe he is true to me now but I still check his shirts for lipstick and examine his lapels for powder marks. I can't break the habit of checking the car cushions for blonde hairpins. Once a woman is betrayed things are never the same.

-:-

HUTCHINSON, Kan. — Can a cheating husband say something?

I had a woman on the side for years. In fact I had two women—a school teacher for nine months of the year and a summer replacement. But my wife cheated, too, in other ways. She was always too tired or she had a headache or a backache. When her sisters visited (which was often) I had to sleep with our son. During the summer it was too hot in Kansas so she spent two months with her parents who had a lake home.

So please remember, Ann, you can't apply a slide rule to people's lives. Because each one is different.

TORONTO — My husband's affair lasted six years. Let me assure you he is not a skunk. He is a fine person, a respected physician and a devoted father to our four children.

I considered divorce many times, then I'd ask myself, "What would I gain?" The answer was all too clear. "Very little compared with what I stood to lose."

The affair ended in January. Only recently he said to me, "I'm thankful you had the wisdom and the maturity I lacked. You saved us both."

-:-

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — I've done marriage counseling along with my ministerial work for more than 20 years. It's my firm conviction that for the majority of unhappily married people, divorce is no answer.

I have recommended divorce for couples who were young and childless, after both parties declared the situation utterly hopeless. But following the lives of dozens of couples who came to me for counseling I have observed that those who divorced invariably went on to repeat the same mistakes. They would have been better off had they remained with the first mistake.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Clip the threads holding the cuffs of boys' trousers and pull the cuffs down when washing them.

This will help omit the wear line, and permit the cuffs to fade with the trousers.

When the boys grow, simply press the cuffs down. They will look as if they had always been down.

MRS. AUDREY DOUGHERTY.

—:—

Also, you won't have a lint problem in the folds of the cuffs — and when you press the trousers, the cuffs will stay up just as well as when they were stitched.

As Mrs. Dougherty said, the slacks will look much better when you have to let the cuffs down for those boys who grow, and grow, and grow.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Most first impressions are important, so please keep your front door castings clean.

Wash off fingerprints, smudges and plain gook as often as necessary.

Whenever you ring a doorbell and stand there waiting, you wonder why many people never think front doors are part of the house.

It takes so little time and effort to keep the area around your front door clean, and is a good indication how the rest of your house looks.

HOMEMAKER, TOO.

DEAR HELOISE: Our kitchen is paneled with birch. I had my husband put the leftover pieces of paneling on the cupboard shelves for my pots and pans.

I then lined the upper portion of my cupboard with adhesive-backed plastic paper in a wood pattern.

Now my cupboard blends in beautifully with the paneling on the kitchen wall, and looks custom built.

MRS. C. R. C.

DEAR HELOISE: Every time I cook chicken, fried steak or veal cutlets in batter — the batter comes off when I turn the meat over.

Please find the answer for me.

JANE.

-:-

Does anyone have the answer to this? It's quite a common complaint.

Do be sweet enough to tell us your secret. Write to us in care of this paper. Your letters don't have to be signed to appear here.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I press my husband's suits, I keep a spray bottle of water on the ironing board instead of running back and forth to the sink to wet the pressing cloth.

I can wet the cloth with the spray bottle and it saves me many steps.

H. PHINNEY.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER:

DEAR HELOISE: When driving in the country and have no roadside table for your picnic, stop the car under a tree and put a blanket over the hood of the car and use that as a table.

Of course, the hood slants a little so be careful where you set your cold drinks.

TINA.

DEAR HELOISE: I have discovered that corsage pins are just marvelous for pinning protectors on chair arms and backs.

Also, they cannot be beaten for blocking knitted garments.

The pins have beautiful pearl heads, and come in assorted colors.

TRUDY.

Tough Management Course Set For Ohio Cabinet, Aides

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Finance Director Richard L. Krabach announced today a tough management course for state cabinet members and 200 of their top aides.

He ticked off plans and dates as if the Republican administration's re-election in November were a foregone conclusion.

"We have come through a grim period and these men have established order out of financial chaos," he said. "Now it is time to invoke the kind of management training which has done so much for business and industry."

Ohio State University's College of Commerce and Administration developed the course, known as MAP, specifically for the state government, Krabach explained.

Faculty will be recruited from universities, industries and government, he added.

Classes of 25 each will open Sept. 29 in the Ohio Union on the OSU campus. They will be held two days a week for six weeks with the eighth group starting the course next May 25.

Cabinet members, including Krabach, will attend training sessions on four consecutive Mondays Nov. 14-Dec. 5.

After the initial course, additional classes will be slated for second and third echelon state executives, Krabach said.

Top and second level executives can carry the program into departmental course for continuing education of state personnel, he said.

The cabinet course will deal with economic environment, the management process and the role of manager. MAP courses will cover a different subject each day, ranging from management process to style of managerial leadership.

Krabach said his department will finance the $109,000 courses with the help of $62,550 in federal funds under Ohio Board of Regents coordination.

Land Fill Brings Injunction Move

LISBON — Leonard and Betty Bonsall of 1190 Franklin St., Salem, have filed an injunction petition in Common Pleas Court against the Herron Transfer Co., whose land adjoins their north line.

They say the transfer company bought 3.45 acres last December and last spring commenced hauling fill dirt to build a parking lot for tractors and trailers "in violation of terms and provisions of the city zoning ordinance."

The plaintiffs say their property and Herron land are zoned R-1, single family residences. Both tracts are located on the east side of Franklin, the first two parcels north of the Southeast Blvd. allotment.

Petitioners say the defendant continues to expand the parking area by adding more and more fill "which has created an embankment some 10 feet high along the south boundary of the defendant's land."

They ask the court to enjoin the defendant from using the property for parking or turning trucks, tractors and trailers, and that it be required to restore the property to the same contour and condition it was before the fill.

Defendants named with the company are Arthur J. Herron Jr., Youngstown - Salem Rd.; Denton Herron, 1339 N. Lincoln; Gail Herron, 955 Southeast Blvd., and Rollin Herron, 830 Fair St., all of Salem.

DETROIT — My wife accused me of having another woman for years. When I finally "confessed" and begged her to forgive me she was overjoyed. We've had a good marriage for over 40 years. What she doesn't know is that there never was another woman. I had to invent one to satisty her.

SAN JOSE — I stayed with my two-timing skunk and I do believe he is true to me now but I still check his shirts for lipstick and examine his lapels for powder marks. I can't break the habit of checking the car cushions for blonde hairpins. Once a woman is betrayed things are never the same.

-:-

HUTCHINSON, Kan. — Can a cheating husband say something?

I had a woman on the side for years. In fact I had two women—a school teacher for nine months of the year and a summer replacement. But my wife cheated, too, in other ways. She was always too tired or she had a headache or a backache. When her sisters visited (which was often) I had to sleep with our son. During the summer it was too hot in Kansas so she spent two months with her parents who had a lake home.

So please remember, Ann, you can't apply a slide rule to people's lives. Because each one is different.

TORONTO — My husband's affair lasted six years. Let me assure you he is not a skunk. He is a fine person, a respected physician and a devoted father to our four children.

I considered divorce many times. then I'd ask myself, "What would I gain?" The answer was all too clear. "Very little compared with what I stood to lose."

The affair ended in January. Only recently he said to me, "I'm thankful you had the wisdom and the maturity I lacked. You saved us both."

-:-

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — I've done marriage counseling along with my ministerial work for more than 20 years. It's my firm conviction that for the majority of unhappily married people, divorce is no answer.

I have recommended divorce for couples who were young and childless, after both parties declared the situation utterly hopeless. But following the lives of dozens of couples who came to me for counseling I have observed that those who divorced invariably went on to repeat the same mistakes. They would have been better off had they remained with the first mistake.

Land Fill Brings Injunction Move

LISBON — Leonard and Betty Bonsall of 1190 Franklin St., Salem, have filed an injunction petition in Common Pleas Court against the Herron Transfer Co., whose land adjoins their north line.

They say the transfer company bought 3.45 acres last December and last spring commenced hauling fill dirt to build a parking lot for tractors and trailers "in violation of terms and provisions of the city zoning ordinance."

The plaintiffs say their property and Herron land are zoned R-1, single family residences. Both tracts are located on the east side of Franklin, the first two parcels north of the Southeast Blvd. allotment.

Petitioners say the defendant continues to expand the parking area by adding more and more fill "which has created an embankment some 10 feet high along the south boundary of the defendant's land."

They ask the court to enjoin the defendant from using the property for parking or turning trucks, tractors and trailers, and that it be required to restore the property to the same contour and condition it was before the fill.

Defendants named with the company are Arthur J. Herron Jr., Youngstown - Salem Rd.; Denton Herron, 1339 N. Lincoln; Gail Herron, 955 Southeast Blvd., and Rollin Herron, 830 Fair St., all of Salem.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Clip the threads holding the cuffs of boys' trousers and pull the cuffs down when washing them.

This will help omit the wear line, and permit the cuffs to fade with the trousers.

When the boys grow, simply press the cuffs down. They will look as if they had always been down.

MRS. AUDREY DOUGHERTY.

-:-

Also, you won't have a lint problem in the folds of the cuffs — and when you press the trousers, the cuffs will stay up just as well as when they were stitched.

As Mrs. Dougherty said, the slacks will look much better when you have to let the cuffs down for those boys who grow, and grow, and grow.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Most first impressions are important, so please keep your front door castings clean.

Wash off fingerprints, smudges and plain gook as often as necessary.

Whenever you ring a doorbell and stand there waiting, you wonder why many people never think front doors are part of the house.

It takes so little time and effort to keep the area around your front door clean, and is a good indication how the rest of your house looks.

HOMEMAKER, TOO.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: Our kitchen is paneled with birch. I had my husband put the leftover pieces of paneling on the cupboard shelves for my pots and pans.

I then lined the upper portion of my cupboard with adhesive-backed plastic paper in a wood pattern.

Now my cupboard blends in beautifully with the paneling on the kitchen wall, and looks custom built.

MRS. C. R. C.

DEAR HELOISE: Every time I cook chicken, fried steak or veal cutlets in batter — the batter comes off when I turn the meat over.

Please find the answer for me.

JANE.

-:-

Does anyone have the answer to this? It's quite a common complaint.

Do be sweet enough to tell us your secret. Write to us in care of this paper. Your letters don't have to be signed to appear here.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I press my husband's suits, I keep a spray bottle of water on the ironing board instead of running back and forth to the sink to wet the pressing cloth.

I can wet the cloth with the spray bottle and it saves me many steps.

H. PHINNEY.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER:

DEAR HELOISE: When driving in the country and have no roadside table for your picnic, stop the car under a tree and put a blanket over the hood of the car and use that as a table.

Of course, the hood slants a little so be careful where you set your cold drinks.

TINA.

DEAR HELOISE: I have discovered that corsage pins are just marvelous for pinning protectors on chair arms and backs.

Also, they cannot be beaten for blocking knitted garments.

The pins have beautiful pearl heads, and come in assorted colors.

TRUDY.

Tough Management Course Set For Ohio Cabinet, Aides

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Finance Director Richard L. Krabach announced today a tough management course for state cabinet members and 200 of their top aides.

He ticked off plans and dates as if the Republican administration's re-election in November were a foregone conclusion.

"We have come through a grim period and these men have established order out of financial chaos," he said. "Now it is time to invoke the kind of management training which has done so much for business and industry."

Ohio State University's College of Commerce and Administration developed the course, known as MAP, specifically for the state government, Krabach explained.

Faculty will be recruited from universities, industries and government, he added.

Classes of 25 each will open Sept. 29 in the Ohio Union on the OSU campus. They will be held two days a week for six weeks with the eighth group starting the course next May 25.

Cabinet members, including Krabach, will attend training sessions on four consecutive Mondays Nov. 14-Dec. 5.

After the initial course, additional classes will be slated for second and third echelon state executives, Krabach said.

Top and second level executives can carry the program into departmental course for continuing education of state personnel, he said.

The cabinet course will deal with economic environment, the management process and the role of manager. MAP courses will cover a different subject each day, ranging from management process to style of managerial leadership.

Krabach said his department will finance the $109,000 courses with the help of $62,550 in federal funds under Ohio Board of Regents coordination.

Members are to bring a coverdish and table service.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

Specials: Sweet And Savory

Nearly every day now brings new disclosures of further efforts by the three national TV networks to imprint their entertainment with a stamp of greater critical approval.

Richard Doan

The effort is channeled entirely into specials. Little is made of the forthcoming weekly series. "What is there to say of them?" a network vice president confessed. "They're just there."

-:-

THE WEEKLY SHOWS, of course, are the meat and potatoes. But networkers' minds obviously are on the appetizers and dessert.

In recent days all three networks promised still more of this fare:

NBC early next year will present a 90-minute telecast in prime time of "The Investigation," a stark drama drawn from official transcripts of the Frankfurt trials of guards and officials of Nazi Germany's infamous Auschwitz concentration camp. The play is scheduled to open on Broadway on Oct. 4 following performances during the past year in 17 German cities, in Stockholm and in London, to what NBC described as "remarkable critical acclaim."

-:-

FOR CBS, writer Reginald Rose and producer Herbert Brodkin, who turned out many of the best episodes of "The Defenders," will team up again to do a drama which has a title ("Dear Friends), a locale (New York City) and a cast of characters (four married couples), but is not yet written, for a new "CBS Playhouse" series of occasional full-length dramas.

One of the "ABC Stage 67" hours during the coming season will offer a trio of short films "celebrating the pains and joys of growing up." Robert Young, famous as the TV father who knows best, will appear as host of "Trilogy: The American Boy."

For another "Stage 67", James Goldman, author of a recent Broadway play, "Lion in Winter," starring Robert Preston, will dramatize a John Collier short story, a fantasy called "Evening Primrose," about a group of people who live secretly in a department store and appear only at night. John Houseman, well - known stage-movie - TV director - producer, will put the production on tape.

-:-

NBC - TV PRESIDENT Don Durgin said he believes "The Investigation" will be "one of the most shattering dramas" ever to reach the home screen and he promised it will be televised regardless of how the Broadway production is received, whether it still is running or not, and even if no advertisers are willing to sponsor the event.

The play has been written by Peter Weiss, author of "Marat Sade," winner of last season's Drama Critics award. Ulu Grosbard, who directed the Pulitzer Prize - winning play, "The Subject Was Roses," play and will direct both the Broadway and NBC productions.

One of the four coproducers of "The Investigation" is comedian Alan King, currently appearing on Broadway in "The Impossible Years."

-:-

NBC-TV program chief Mort Werner described the drama as having "no plot in the conventional sense." It has one setting, a courtroom, and about 30 characters: the judge, the accused, the lawyers and witnesses.

An NBC spokesman likened "The Investigation" in controversial impact to "The Deputy," which dealt with religious issues.

Stage productions of "The Investigations" are scheduled in Israel and Russia as well as on Broadway, NBC reported.

CBS made no announcement (apparently contractual details were still to be buttoned up), but confirmed reports that Rose will receive $25,000 from the $500,000 kitty the network set up recently to buy scripts for "CBS Playhouse."

-:-

ROSE WAS QUOTED as elated that the network had given him "absolute freedom" in writing a play of any length up to two hours. He got the CBS nod on the basis of a story outline.

Rose and Brodkin both worked on the famous "Playhouse 90" series of the 1950s.

ABC said that one of its trilogy of short films will be a theatrical short subject, "Skaterdater," filmed in "suburban southern California, where the skateboard is king," and shown recently in moviehouses.

Marshal Backlar and Noel Black, the young film makers who turned out "Skaterdater," have been commissioned to do two additional shorts, one picturing a boy in the Louisiana bayou country, the other a youth in New York City.

Odd Facts

There is more fresh water in the underground rock formations of Florida than in all the five Great Lakes combined.

California, Washington, Oregon and New Jersey grew a combined total of 82 per cent of the U.S. production of asparagus last year.

Shapp, Shafer To Hold Three TV Debates

HARRISBURG (AP) — With an exchange of barbed telegrams, gubernatorial candidates Milton Shapp and Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer have agreed to hold three television debates during the fall campaign.

Shapp, in agreeing to the Republican terms for three one-hour debates, with the last one on or before Oct. 7, called the terms "seriously inadequate."

During the negotiations held by representatives of both candidates, the Democrats had passed for the last debate to be held as close to election day as possible.

Shapp's telegram to Shafer said:

"While I believe firmly your terms are seriously inadequate, particularly with regard to the early dates on which you insist, I feel the public is better served, even with your meager concessions, than to have no debate at all."

Shafer, in his telegram, said he considered Shapp's state "inacurate, abusive of truth and offensive."

He said Shapp had violated a confidence by revealing details of negotiations on the debates, after, he said, both sides had agreed not to disclose them.

"I shall look forward to the debates hoping that you will demonstrate a greater sense of responsibility than you have in this matter," Shafer concluded.

The candidates agreed to a man-to-man format for two of the debates, on Sept. 16 and 30. At the last one, they will be questioned by a panel of newsmen.

New Ordinance Clarifies City's Vacation Rules

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to legislation clarifying the language of earlier laws stipulating the provisions for annual employe vacations, particularly the method in which compensation is computed.

However, the ordinance will not affect 1966 vacations. It does not go into effect until next Jan. 1. The preamble of the ordinance says the present legislation "is difficult to administer in some cases and is vague in other respects."

The legislation provides a formula for computing the time off and the vacation pay for salaried workers as well as those on day wages. For instance, it provides a week's vacation pay for a salaried worker shall be computed at one quarter of his regular monthly salary while an hourly - rated worker will receive compensation equal to six and a half days' work at his usual wage.

The ordinance also provides for payment of accrued vacation time as part of the final pay when an employe dies.

The legislation affects all municipal workers except members of the police and fire departments, who are covered in separate ordinances.

When the refrigerator is heavily loaded or when the door must be opened often, the cold control should be set higher for best operating service.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

Specials: Sweet And Savory

Nearly every day now brings new disclosures of further efforts by the three national TV networks to imprint their entertainment with a stamp of greater critical approval.

Richard Doan

The effort is channeled entirely into specials. Little is made of the forthcoming weekly series. "What is there to say of them?" a network vice president confessed. "They're just there."

-:-

THE WEEKLY SHOWS, of course, are the meat and potatoes. But networkers' minds obviously are on the appetizers and dessert.

In recent days all three networks promised still more of this fare:

NBC early next year will present a 90-minute telecast in prime time of "The Investigation," a stark drama drawn from official transcripts of the Frankfurt trials of guards and officials of Nazi Germany's infamous Auschwitz concentration camp. The play is scheduled to open on Broadway on Oct. 4 following performances during the past year in 17 German cities, in Stockholm and in London, to what NBC described as "remarkable critical acclaim."

-:-

FOR CBS, writer Reginald Rose and producer Herbert Brodkin, who turned out many of the best episodes of "The Defenders," will team up again to do a drama which has a title ("Dear Friends), a locale (New York City) and a cast of characters (four married couples), but is not yet written, for a new "CBS Playhouse" series of occasional full-length dramas.

One of the "ABC Stage 67" hours during the coming season will offer a trio of short films "celebrating the pains and joys of growing up." Robert Young, famous as the TV father who knows best, will appear as host of "Trilogy: The American Boy."

For another "Stage 67", James Goldman, author of a recent Broadway play, "Lion in Winter," starring Robert Preston, will dramatize a John Collier short story, a fantasy called "Evening Primrose," about a group of people who live secretly in a department store and appear only at night. John Houseman, well - known stage-movie - TV director - producer, will put the production on tape.

-:-

NBC - TV PRESIDENT Don Durgin said he believes "The Investigation" will be "one of the most shattering dramas" ever to reach the home screen and he promised it will be televised regardless of how the Broadway production is received, whether it still is running or not, and even if no advertisers are willing to sponsor the event.

The play has been written by Peter Weiss, author of "Marat Sade," winner of last season's Drama Critics award. Ulu Grosbard, who directed the Pulitzer Prize - winning play, "The Subject Was Roses," play and will direct both the Broadway and NBC productions.

One of the four coproducers of "The Investigation" is comedian Alan King, currently appearing on Broadway in "The Impossible Years."

-:-

NBC-TV program chief Mort Werner described the drama as having "no plot in the conventional sense." It has one setting, a courtroom, and about 30 characters: the judge, the accused, the lawyers and witnesses.

An NBC spokesman likened "The Investigation" in controversial impact to "The Deputy," which dealt with religious issues.

Stage productions of "The Investigations" are scheduled in Israel and Russia as well as on Broadway, NBC reported.

CBS made no announcement (apparently contractual details were still to be buttoned up), but confirmed reports that Rose will receive $25,000 from the $500,000 kitty the network set up recently to buy scripts for "CBS Playhouse."

-:-

ROSE WAS QUOTED as elated that the network had given him "absolute freedom" in writing a play of any length up to two hours. He got the CBS nod on the basis of a story outline.

Rose and Brodkin both worked on the famous "Playhouse 90" series of the 1950s.

ABC said that one of its trilogy of short films will be a theatrical short subject, "Skaterdater," filmed in "suburban southern California, where the skateboard is king," and shown recently in moviehouses.

Marshal Backlar and Noel Black, the young film makers who turned out "Skaterdater," have been commissioned to do two additional shorts, one picturing a boy in the Louisiana bayou country, the other a youth in New York City.

Odd Facts

There is more fresh water in the underground rock formations of Florida than in all the five Great Lakes combined.

California, Washington, Oregon and New Jersey grew a combined total of 82 per cent of the U.S. production of asparagus last year.

Shapp, Shafer To Hold Three TV Debates

HARRISBURG (AP) — With an exchange of barbed telegrams, gubernatorial candidates Milton Shapp and Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer have agreed to hold three television debates during the fall campaign.

Shapp, in agreeing to the Republican terms for three one-hour debates, with the last one on or before Oct. 7, called the terms "seriously inadequate."

During the negotiations held by representatives of both candidates, the Democrats had passed for the last debate to be held as close to election day as possible.

Shapp's telegram to Shafer said:

"While I believe firmly your terms are seriously inadequate, particularly with regard to the early dates on which you insist, I feel the public is better served, even with your meager concessions, than to have no debate at all."

Shafer, in his telegram, said he considered Shapp's state "inacurate, abusive of truth and offensive."

He said Shapp had violated a confidence by revealing details of negotiations on the debates, after, he said, both sides had agreed not to disclose them.

"I shall look forward to the debates hoping that you will demonstrate a greater sense of responsibility than you have in this matter," Shafer concluded.

The candidates agreed to a man-to-man format for two of the debates, on Sept. 16 and 30. At the last one, they will be questioned by a panel of newsmen.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Mathews Blast Gives Braves Edge

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ed Mathews struck purple, Deron Johnson saw red and Bill White battered Chicago black and blue.

Those developments occurred Monday night as Mathews powered Atlanta past Houston 4-2, Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 4-3 with Johnson's help and Philadelphia whipped Chicago 11-5 behind White's big bat.

Mathews, whose home run won the Braves' first game under Billy Hitchcock last Tuesday, did it again against the Astros by hitting a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

The homer was a towering shot, landing in the purple seats at the Astrodome. The seats, located on the fourth level, seldom have been reached in the stadium's two-year history.

Johnson, on the other hand, didn't do much hitting at all, and that had him seeing red.

The Reds' slugger, who has 57 runs batted in this season compared with his major league-leading total of 130 last year, came to bat in the seventh inning with two runs, two tying runs on base and two out.

Bob Miller replaced starter Claude Osteen and got Johnson to fly out.

A similar situation cropped up in the ninth. The Reds scored one run, cutting the Dodger lead to 4-3, and had two men on and again with two out. This time Phil Regan replaced Miller, and Johnson struck out.

White didn't hit any mammoth homers, but he didn't kill any rallies either. Instead, he lashed three singles and drove in five runs. He singled home two in the first inning, two in the second and one in the eighth.

The output raised his runs batted in total to 79, six more than he had all of last season.

There was no output from Pittsburgh and San Francisco, the top two teams in the league, Monday night. They had a day of rest, so the Pirates maintained their 1½-game lead over the Giants. The Dodgers are three games back.

Mathews' home run, following the first of two singles by pitcher Tony Cloninger, boosted the Braves into a 3-2 lead. Mathews singled home their first run in the first inning. Cloninger allowed just five hits, none between the third and the eighth innings.

The Dodgers scored all four of their runs in the fourth inning. Jim Gilliam singed and Lou Johnson homered for the first two, and Wes Parker and John Roseboro singled in the others.

White's lusty performance helped Chris Short to his 14th victory although the southpaw needed relief help from Terry Fox in the eighth after doubles by Adolfo Phillips and Billy Williams cut the Phillies lead to 8-5. Byron Browne and Ron Santo homered for Chicago.

Kaat Helps Self To 17th Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three swings by Boog Powell were just enough for the Baltimore Orioles. One swing by Andy Kosco was too much for the California Angels.

Powell snapped an 11th-inning deadlock with a two-run homer, his third blast of the game and 30th of the season, giving the Orioles a 4-2 victory over Boston Monday night.

Kosco, given a reprieve after apparently striking out, broke a seventh-inning tie with a run-scoring single, sparking Minnesota to a 5-3 victory over the angry Angels.

Powell's three big swings preserved the Orioles' 13½ game lead in the American League. Kosco's extra swing sent California Manager Bill Rigney into a rage.

With two out in the Twins' seventh and the lead run on second base, Umpire Jim Odom called Kosco out after he swung at a two-strike pitch. But Al Salerno, the umpire at first base, ruled that the ball had tipped Kosco's bat.

Kosco then singled to center, sending the Twins ahead 3-2.

A moment later, with Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat at bat, Rigney tossed a towel and warmup jacket out of the California dugout, then rushed out himself to do battle with Odom.

The umpire tossed Rigney out of the game, and Kaat lashed a two-run triple, putting the Twins out of reach and insuring his 17th victory — tops in the league.

Two-run homers by Jim Gentile and Chuck Hinton powered Cleveland past Washington 4-3; Norm Cash's 200th career homer helped Detroit edge New York 6-5 and Don Buford's run-scoring single in the 10th inning gave Chicago a 4-3 decision over Kansas City in other AL games.

Powell, who has slammed eight homers in his last 13 games, sent the Orioles ahead 1-0 with the first of his three opposite-field drives in the fourth inning.

Tony Conigliaro's 23rd homer, a twi-run shot in the sixth, put the Red Sox on top, but Powell connected again with one out in the ninth, sending the game into extra innings.

Frank Robinson drew a lead-off walk in the 11th and, one out later, Powell smashed a John Wyatt pitch into the left field screen.

California's George Brunet yielded only three hits before the stormy seventh but suffered his ninth loss in 20 decisions.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 26th homer for the Twins and Joe Adcock homered twice for the Angels.

Gentile hit his first homer as an Indian after Rocky Colavito walked in the fourth inning and Hinton connected in the fifth after a single by Leon Wagner. Paul Casanova's second homer of the game, with one on in the ninth, closed the gap before Luis Tiant rescued winner Sonny Siebert.

Cash sent Detroit ahead 4-2 with a two-run homer in the fifth and the Tigers added two more runs, then held off a Yankee rally in the ninth. Bobby Richardson rapped four hits, including a homer, and Tom Tresh hit a two-run shot for the Yankees.

Buford's 10th inning hit scored Al Weis, who had led off the inning with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice. Bill Skowron's pinch hit homer in the seventh had pulled the White Sox even.

Bill Doehrman of Fort Wayne, Ind., has competed in 56 consecutive ABC tournaments.

3rd No-Hitter Recorded In IL Contest

By The Associated Press

Rochester right-hander Tom Phoebus was taking no chances on losing the International League's third no-hitter of the season.

When Jerry Reimer of Buffalo lashed a drive back toward the pitching mound in the seventh and final inning of Monday night's first game at Rochester, Phoebus knocked it down with his bare hand and threw out Reimer to preserve his hitless effort and a 1-0 victory.

The Bisons took the nightcap, also by 1-0, and prevented Rochester from gaining more than one-half game on league-leading Columbus as the Jets took a 6-4 licking from Toledo that ended an eight-game Columbus winning streak and a 10 - game losing string for the Mud Hens.

Jacksonville's Suns edged Richmond 2-1, and the Toronto Maple Leafs slipped past the Syracuse Chiefs by 2-1 in 11 innings.

The no-hitter by Phoebus was the second by a Rochester pitcher in less than a month, since Dave Vineyard had turned in a hitless game against Toledo on July 29. Toledo's Stan Bahnson pitched the other no-hitter, defeating Richmond earlier in the season.

Giants' Rookies Praised By Vets

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Davis, the New York Giants' massive tackle, weighs a svelte 283 pounds today and Jeff Smith, a rookie linebacker from Southern California, couldn't be happier about it.

Smith won a $13 Guess the Girth pool that the Giants got up when Davis visited their National Football League camp last month en route to the College All Star Game and weighed in at a chubby 319 pounds.

Coach Allie Sherman was visibly shaken at the sight of the promising youngster from Los Angeles State and ordered him to follow a strict diet. The pool among the players, on what weight Davis would get down to, followed and Smith's 285 was the winner.

Davis turned out to be a winner too. He and Francis Peay of Nebraska, another All Star Game returnee, went all the way at the offensive tackle spots in Saturday night's 14-7 victory over Atlanta, and both Sherman and quarterback Earl Morrall praised their work.

"For men who had worked out with the club only four days," Sherman said, "they did a good job. They did the best job we've had done there by anyone in the camp so far."

With the two rookies handling the pass blocking, Morrall completed 20 of 35 passes against Atlanta. The performance of their defensive backfield against New York's air attack may have had something to do with the Falcons' player move Monday.

Atlanta acquired veteran defensive back Hank Gremminger from Dallas for an undisclosed draft choice. Gremminger, starting his 11th season in pro football, had left the Cowboys' training camp earlier over a salary dispute.

Washington moved to bolster its injury-ridden defensive backfield. The Redskins acquired Brig Owens, a rookie from Cincinnati, from Dallas in exchange for a draft choice. Tom Walters, Jim Steffen and Lonnie Sanders are injured, leaving Washington short of safeties and cornerbacks.

In other player moves, the Redskins traded halfback Billy Hunter to Baltimore for fullback Dave Hayes and cut linebacker Jerry Fishman, of Maryland, end Dave Wells of Mississippi and linebacker Ron Corbett of Arizona State.

The Boston Patriots of the American League placed halfback Tom Carr of Bates on waivers, reducing their roster to 47, one under the AFL's current limit.

The AFL Miami Dolphins cut 10 players, including end Doug Moreau of Louisiana State and tackle Charley Diamond and back Ben Rizzo, both of the University of Miami.

Green Bay of the NFL traded guard Ralph Wenzel of San Diego State to Cleveland for a draft choice.

Equipment Issued At Southern Thursday

Medics Take Playoff Lead

The Medics, behind the neat two - hit pitching of Rick Aaron, handed Parsons Coal a 5-2 setback Monday in the first game in the best two out of three series for the National Division championship in the Little League.

Ross Fiorello blasted a triple and double and Steve Lockhart had a triple and single for the winners.

Mike Banfield was the losing pitcher.

Crables Win Links Event

Rick Crable and Dick Crable combined 60 to win Saturday's best ball medal play at the Country Club.

Bob Patterson and William J. Hocking Jr. finished second with 63. Second division honors went to J. N. Porter and Dr. H. F. Banfield with 62.

Members are requested to sign up for the twilight scotch foursome to be held Friday at 5 p. m. The nine hole event will include selective drives and alternate shots.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING—Boog Powell, Baltimore, hit three homers and drove in all four runs in the American League leading Orioles' 11-inning, 4-2 triumph over Boston.

PITCHING—Tony Cloninger, Atlanta, pitched a five-hitter as the Braves downed Houston 4-2.

Spencer Raps 14th

TOKYO (AP) — Former major leaguer Daryl Spencer hit his 14th homer of the season for the only run of the game as the Hankyu Braves shut out the Nankai Hawks 1-0 in a Japanese league baseball game Monday night.

Challenger Draws Cheers

Torres Retains Ring Title, But Cotton Thinks He Won

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The cheers went to Eddie Cotton, a tough old battler from Seattle, and the jeers fell to the light heavyweight champion Jose Torres.

But it was Torres who headed home to Brooklyn today with his world title intact, after winning a unanimous 15-round decision over 40-year-old Cotton in the Las Vegas Convention Center Monday night.

Ancient Eddie was the sentimental favorite, but a 7-2 underdog, and most of the crowd — it was announced as 4,300 but appeared to be more like 3,300— thought he had won the championship.

In the dressing room later, Cotton was the picture of dejection and frustration, the latter a characteristic that has been his life of almost 20 years in the fight game.

"I won the fight," said Cotton. "I know I won the fight. There's no doubt in my mind about it. Certainly I'd like to fight him again if he will give me the chance."

Ring officials disagreed with Cotton over the outcome. Referee Nate Morgan had it 70-67, and judges Ron Amos and Mike Petrovich had it 69-67 and 68-67, respectively. The Associated Press scored it a draw, 69-69.

Torres, at 30 no younger himself, was less than happy about his performance in a fight which was serious in spots but in which neither inflicted any terrible damage.

"After the second or third round I told my trainer, Johnny Manzanet, 'Don't worry. I'll take this fellow out.'" Torres said.

"But I don't know. I was tight. I went back in and couldn't throw punches. Maybe I wasn't concentrating."

National exposure in the televised fight apparently harmed neither boxer.

Matchmaker Harry Markson, of New York, was on hand to offer Torres a fight in Madison Square Garden Dec. 16 with former middleweight champion Dick Tiger for Jose's title. Torres' advisor, Gains Young, said he was interested but would decide later.

And a $50,000 guarantee, by far the largest purse Cotton was ever offered, came from the promotional team of Mrs. Aileen Eaton, of Los Angeles, and Don Chargin, of Oakland, for Eddie to box Bobo Olsen in Oakland's new sports arena Nov. 14.

Torres, however, said he was not impressed with Cotton, but he thought Wayne Thornton, whom he beat last May 21 in the first defense of the title, was a better opponent.

"The only body blow Cotton hurt me with was foul" Torres said. He referred to a low blow in the 10th, which cost Cotton a valuable point.

Gate and television receipts were to be announced today. The champion was guaranteed 50 per cent of the live gate and TV money, and Cotton 15 per cent.

Midland Gridders To Draw Equipment

Equipment will be issued to Midland High football candidates Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the high school gymnasium, head coach Joe Hamilton, announced. Practice will begin Thursday morning.

Giants' Rookies Praised By Vets

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Davis, the New York Giants' massive tackle, weighs a svelte 283 pounds today and Jeff Smith, a rookie linebacker from Southern California, couldn't be happier about it.

Smith won a $13 Guess the Girth pool that the Giants got up when Davis visited their National Football League camp last month en route to the College All Star Game and weighed in at a chubby 319 pounds.

Coach Allie Sherman was visibly shaken at the sight of the promising youngster from Los Angeles State and ordered him to follow a strict diet. The pool among the players, on what weight Davis would get down to, followed and Smith's 285 was the winner.

Davis turned out to be a winner too. He and Francis Peay of Nebraska, another All Star Game returnee, went all the way at the offensive tackle spots in Saturday night's 14-7 victory over Atlanta, and both Sherman and quarterback Earl Morrall praised their work.

"For men who had worked out with the club only four days," Sherman said, "they did a good job. They did the best job we've had done there by anyone in the camp so far."

With the two rookies handling the pass blocking, Morrall completed 20 of 35 passes against Atlanta. The performance of their defensive backfield against New York's air attack may have had something to do with the Falcons' player move Monday.

Atlanta acquired veteran defensive back Hank Gremminger from Dallas for an undisclosed draft choice. Gremminger, starting his 11th season in pro football, had left the Cowboys' training camp earlier over a salary dispute.

Washington moved to bolster its injury-ridden defensive backfield. The Redskins acquired Brig Owens, a rookie from Cincinnati, from Dallas in exchange for a draft choice. Tom Walters, Jim Steffen and Lonnie Sanders are injured, leaving Washington short of safeties and cornerbacks.

In other player moves, the Redskins traded halfback Billy Hunter to Baltimore for fullback Dave Hayes and cut linebacker Jerry Fishman, of Maryland, end Dave Wells of Mississippi and linebacker Ron Corbett of Arizona State.

The Boston Patriots of the American League placed halfback Tom Carr of Bates on waivers, reducing their roster to 47, one under the AFL's current limit.

The AFL Miami Dolphins cut 10 players, including end Doug Moreau of Louisiana State and tackle Charley Diamond and back Ben Rizzo, both of the University of Miami.

Green Bay of the NFL traded guard Ralph Wenzel of San Diego State to Cleveland for a draft choice.

3rd No-Hitter Recorded In IL Contest

By The Associated Press

Rochester right-hander Tom Phoebus was taking no chances on losing the International League's third no-hitter of the season.

When Jerry Reimer of Buffalo lashed a drive back toward the pitching mound in the seventh and final inning of Monday night's first game at Rochester, Phoebus knocked it down with his bare hand and threw out Reimer to preserve his hitless effort and a 1-0 victory.

The Bisons took the nightcap, also by 1-0, and prevented Rochester from gaining more than one-half game on league-leading Columbus as the Jets took a 6-4 licking from Toledo that ended an eight-game Columbus winning streak and a 10 - game losing string for the Mud Hens.

Jacksonville's Suns edged Richmond 2-1, and the Toronto Maple Leafs slipped past the Syracuse Chiefs by 2-1 in 11 innings.

The no-hitter by Phoebus was the second by a Rochester pitcher in less than a month, since Dave Vineyard had turned in a hitless game against Toledo on July 29. Toledo's Stan Bahnson pitched the other no-hitter, defeating Richmond earlier in the season.

Kaat Helps Self To 17th Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three swings by Boog Powell were just enough for the Baltimore Orioles. One swing by Andy Kosco was too much for the California Angels.

Powell snapped an 11th-inning deadlock with a two-run homer, his third blast of the game and 30th of the season, giving the Orioles a 4-2 victory over Boston Monday night.

Kosco, given a reprieve after apparently striking out, broke a seventh-inning tie with a run-scoring single, sparking Minnesota to a 5-3 victory over the angry Angels.

Powell's three big swings preserved the Orioles' 13½ game lead in the American League. Kosco's extra swing sent California Manager Bill Rigney into a rage.

With two out in the Twins' seventh and the lead run on second base, Umpire Jim Odom called Kosco out after he swung at a two-strike pitch. But Al Salerno, the umpire at first base, ruled that the ball had tipped Kosco's bat.

Kosco then singled to center, sending the Twins ahead 3-2.

A moment later, with Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat at bat, Rigney tossed a towel and warmup jacket out of the California dugout, then rushed out himself to do battle with Odom.

The umpire tossed Rigney out of the game, and Kaat lashed a two-run triple, putting the Twins out of reach and insuring his 17th victory — tops in the league.

Two-run homers by Jim Gentile and Chuck Hinton powered Cleveland past Washington 4-3; Norm Cash's 200th career homer helped Detroit edge New York 6-5 and Don Buford's run-scoring single in the 10th inning gave Chicago a 4-3 decision over Kansas City in other AL games.

Powell, who has slammed eight homers in his last 13 games, sent the Orioles ahead 1-0 with the first of his three opposite-field drives in the fourth inning.

Tony Conigliaro's 23rd homer, a twi-run shot in the sixth, put the Red Sox on top, but Powell connected again with one out in the ninth, sending the game into extra innings.

Frank Robinson drew a lead-off walk in the 11th and, one out later, Powell smashed a John Wyatt pitch into the left field screen.

California's George Brunet yielded only three hits before the stormy seventh but suffered his ninth loss in 20 decisions.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 26th homer for the Twins and Joe Adcock homered twice for the Angels.

Gentile hit his first homer as an Indian after Rocky Colavito walked in the fourth inning and Hinton connected in the fifth after a single by Leon Wagner. Paul Casanova's second homer of the game, with one on in the ninth, closed the gap before Luis Tiant rescued winner Sonny Siebert.

Cash sent Detroit ahead 4-2 with a two-run homer in the fifth and the Tigers added two more runs, then held off a Yankee rally in the ninth. Bobby Richardson rapped four hits, including a homer, and Tom Tresh hit a two-run shot for the Yankees.

Buford's 10th inning hit scored Al Weis, who had led off the inning with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice. Bill Skowron's pinch hit homer in the seventh had pulled the White Sox even.

Bill Doehrman of Fort Wayne, Ind., has competed in 56 consecutive ABC tournaments.

Challenger Draws Cheers

Torres Retains Ring Title, But Cotton Thinks He Won

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The cheers went to Eddie Cotton, a tough old battler from Seattle, and the jeers fell to the light heavyweight champion Jose Torres.

But it was Torres who headed home to Brooklyn today with his world title intact, after winning a unanimous 15-round decision over 40-year-old Cotton in the Las Vegas Convention Center Monday night.

Ancient Eddie was the sentimental favorite, but a 7-2 underdog, and most of the crowd — it was announced as 4,300 but appeared to be more like 3,300— thought he had won the championship.

In the dressing room later, Cotton was the picture of dejection and frustration, the latter a characteristic that has been his life of almost 20 years in the fight game.

"I won the fight," said Cotton. "I know I won the fight. There's no doubt in my mind about it. Certainly I'd like to fight him again if he will give me the chance."

Ring officials disagreed with Cotton over the outcome. Referee Nate Morgan had it 70-67, and judges Ron Amos and Mike Petrovich had it 69-67 and 68-67, respectively. The Associated Press scored it a draw, 69-69.

Torres, at 30 no younger himself, was less than happy about his performance in a fight which was serious in spots but in which neither inflicted any terrible damage.

"After the second or third round I told my trainer, Johnny Manzanet, 'Don't worry. I'll take this fellow out.'" Torres said.

"But I don't know. I was tight. I went back in and couldn't throw punches. Maybe I wasn't concentrating."

National exposure in the televised fight apparently harmed neither boxer.

Matchmaker Harry Markson, of New York, was on hand to offer Torres a fight in Madison Square Garden Dec. 16 with former middleweight champion Dick Tiger for Jose's title. Torres' advisor, Gains Young, said he was interested but would decide later.

And a $50,000 guarantee, by far the largest purse Cotton was ever offered, came from the promotional team of Mrs. Aileen Eaton, of Los Angeles, and Don Chargin, of Oakland, for Eddie to box Bobo Olsen in Oakland's new sports arena Nov. 14.

Torres, however, said he was not impressed with Cotton, but he thought Wayne Thornton, whom he beat last May 21 in the first defense of the title, was a better opponent.

"The only body blow Cotton hurt me with was foul" Torres said. He referred to a low blow in the 10th, which cost Cotton a valuable point.

Gate and television receipts were to be announced today. The champion was guaranteed 50 per cent of the live gate and TV money, and Cotton 15 per cent.

U.S. Netters Makes Sweep Of Mexicans

By RICHARD H. SMITH
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 5-0 sweep of the Davis Cup Tennis American Zone final from Mexico gave the U.S. team cause for both elation and concern today as it looked ahead to October and the next round, with Brazil as the opponent.

A reason for U.S. captain George MacCall to rejoice was the performance of Clark Graebner, who mastered Mexico's top amateur, Rafael Osuna, in Monday's singles finale 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

A reason for MacCall to worry was that muscular cramps knotted the legs of 19-year-old Cliff Richey as he struggled to an 11-13, 6-0, 10-8, 6-4 victory over Marcelo Lara in Monday's first singles match.

"His muscles were coming up like bubbles," said MacCall, who worked on Richey's legs after the seventh, eighth and ninth games of the fourth and last set in the two-hour, 49-minute match.

Richey, from San Angelo, Tex. and No. 3 in U.S. singles, had severe leg cramps in Paris in May. MacCall said he had thought the cramps were due to a long, sit-up airplane ride. Now he wonders.

Graebner got the nod from MacCall over Richey for the No. 2 singles spot behind Dennis Ralston, but Richey got to play Monday because Ralston had a blister on his right foot. Lara then was substituted by Mexico for Joaquin Loyo-Mayo.

MacCall said Graebner's match against the 27-year-old Osuna was his "finest in this country and possibly the equal of his great win over Fred Stolle in Australia."

Cookie Seen Heading For Denver Club

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Denver Broncos were reported to be dealing with the Oakland Raiders for a trade for rebellious fullback Cookie Gilchrist.

Bronco Coach Mac Speedie said Monday the American Football League deal "has not been consummated yet and may not be for another couple of days."

The deal reportedly would see Gilchrist traded for a veteran lineman whom Speedie would not identify.

Gilchrist has refused to play for the Broncos this year, turning in a resignation accompanied by a blast at the Denver management for allegedly not trying to produce winning teams.

Modell Thinks So

Did Jim Brown Mean It When He Quit Football?

By JACK HAND

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) —Can the Cleveland Browns survive without Jim Brown? Will Jim come rushing back to the rescue if the Browns falter at the gate? Did he mean it when he said he was through?

These are the questions that visitors kicked around at the Browns' training camp at Hiram College before the club left for the West Coast and a two-game exhibition series.

Art Modell, the owner of the club, insisted there was no chance that Brown would be back. He denied vehemently any suggestions that the Brown retirement was a tie-in for movie publicity for The Dirty Dozen, the film Brown has been making in England.

"We do not expect Jim to come back," said Coach Blanton Collier. "We are going ahead, making our plans for the future without him. Certainly, we will miss Jim. He was the greatest running back of all time.

"We have Ernie Green and Leroy Kelly and we think we can find some more to go with them. We will run just as much as we did, perhaps more because there will be more need for deception in our offense. If I find out that we need to pass more, we will do it. But we certainly are not going into the season with the idea that we are strictly a passing team."

In addition to Green and Kelly, the Browns have Charley Scales of last year's team, plus rookies Charley Harraway of San Jose State, a 6-foot-2, 230-pound fullback; Randy Schultz, a 5-10, 210-pounder from Iowa State Teachers who has been handicapped by a pulled muscle; and Gary Lane, a quarterback at Missouri but a running back with the Browns.

There seems to be no question but that the Browns will do more passing with Frank Ryan at the controls and such fine receivers as Gary Collins, Paul Warfield and little Walt Roberts at his disposal.

Warfield, a sensation in his rookie season, missed practically the entire 1965 season after breaking his collarbone while playing against the College All-Stars last August. Warfield is himself again, ready to strike terror into all the right corner backs in the league.

Milt Morin, a 6-4, 250-pounder from Massachusetts who commanded a high bonus as the Browns' No. 1 draft pick, is expected to take over at tight end. He lost valuable time with the College All Stars. But the Browns think so highly of him that they moved Jim Brewer, the incumbent tight end, to the right linebacker job during the training season.

The offensive line, so highly rated by Collier, consists of Dick Schafrath and Monte Clark at tackles, John Wooten and Gene Hickerson at guards and John Morrow at center.

Collier has done some revamping in the defense which finished 13th in the league last year. Walt Johnson, a second year man, moves into a regular tackle job. Teaming with Jim Kanicki, Bill Glass and Paul Wiggin are still the ends. Frank Parker, a 6-5, 270-pound tackle who sat out last year after an operation, is being brought along slowly.

Erich Barnes is starting at the left corner and Walt Beach at the right corner with Bernie Parrish at free safety and Ernie Kellerman or Ross Fichtner at strong safety. Mike Howell is pressing the four deep men for a regular job.

If Brewer remains at right linebacker, ahead of Galen Fiss, the Browns will have a new face in that department. The veteran Jim Houston will be at the other side and Vince Costello in the middle.

Lou Groza, strong as ever at 42, has turned back all challengers for his field goal job and is ready to add to his record-breaking totals.

Did Jim Brown Mean It When He Quit Football?

By JACK HAND

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) —Can the Cleveland Browns survive without Jim Brown? Will Jim come rushing back to the rescue if the Browns falter at the gate? Did he mean it when he said he was through?

These are the questions that visitors kicked around at the Browns' training camp at Hiram College before the club left for the West Coast and a two-game exhibition series.

Art Modell, the owner of the club, insisted there was no chance that Brown would be back. He denied vehemently any suggestions that the Brown retirement was a tie-in for movie publicity for The Dirty Dozen, the film Brown has been making in England.

"We do not expect Jim to come back," said Coach Blanton Collier. "We are going ahead, making our plans for the future without him. Certainly, we will miss Jim. He was the greatest running back of all time.

"We have Ernie Green and Leroy Kelly and we think we can find some more to go with them. We will run just as much as we did, perhaps more because there will be more need for deception in our offense. If I find out that we need to pass more, we will do it. But we certainly are not going into the season with the idea that we are strictly a passing team."

In addition to Green and Kelly, the Browns have Charley Scales of last year's team, plus rookies Charley Harraway of San Jose State, a 6-foot-2, 230-pound fullback; Randy Schultz, a 5-10, 210-pounder from Iowa State Teachers who has been handicapped by a pulled muscle; and Gary Lane, a quarterback at Missouri but a running back with the Browns.

There seems to be no question but that the Browns will do more passing with Frank Ryan at the controls and such fine receivers as Gary Collins, Paul Warfield and little Walt Roberts at his disposal.

Warfield, a sensation in his rookie season, missed practically the entire 1965 season after breaking his collarbone while playing against the College All-Stars last August. Warfield is himself again, ready to strike terror into all the right corner backs in the league.

Milt Morin, a 6-4, 250-pounder from Massachusetts who commanded a high bonus as the Browns' No. 1 draft pick, is expected to take over at tight end. He lost valuable time with the College All Stars. But the Browns think so highly of him that they moved Jim Brewer, the incumbent tight end, to the right linebacker job during the training season.

U.S. Netters Makes Sweep Of Mexicans

By RICHARD H. SMITH
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 5-0 sweep of the Davis Cup Tennis American Zone final from Mexico gave the U.S. team cause for both elation and concern today as it looked ahead to October and the next round, with Brazil as the opponent.

A reason for U.S. captain George MacCall to rejoice was the performance of Clark Graebner, who mastered Mexico's top amateur, Rafael Osuna, in Monday's singles finale 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

A reason for MacCall to worry was that muscular cramps knotted the legs of 19-year-old Cliff Richey as he struggled to an 11-13, 6-0, 10-8, 6-4 victory over Marcelo Lara in Monday's first singles match.

"His muscles were coming up like bubbles," said MacCall, who worked on Richey's legs after the seventh, eighth and ninth games of the fourth and last set in the two-hour, 49-minute match.

Richey, from San Angelo, Tex. and No. 3 in U.S. singles, had severe leg cramps in Paris in May. MacCall said he had thought the cramps were due to a long, sit-up airplane ride. Now he wonders.

Graebner got the nod from MacCall over Richey for the No. 2 singles spot behind Dennis Ralston, but Richey got to play Monday because Ralston had a blister on his right foot. Lara then was substituted by Mexico for Joaquin Loyo-Mayo.

MacCall said Graebner's match against the 27-year-old Osuna was his "finest in this country and possibly the equal of his great win over Fred Stollie in Australia."

Cookie Seen Heading For Denver Club

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Denver Broncos were reported to be dealing with the Oakland Raiders for a trade for rebellious fullback Cookie Gilchrist.

Bronco Coach Mac Speedie said Monday the American Football League deal "has not been consummated yet and may not be for another couple of days."

The deal reportedly would see Gilchrist traded for a veteran lineman whom Speedie would not identify.

Gilchrist has refused to play for the Broncos this year, turning in a resignation accompanied by a blast at the Denver management for allegedly not trying to produce winning teams.

$844,602 In Taxes Collected At Meadows

HARRISBURG (AP) — A total of $844,602 in state taxes were collected during the recent 62-day meeting at the Meadows Harness Race Track near Washington, — $100,000 less than last year — reports the Department of Revenue.

Attendance at the track was 370,323 and the handle $15,165,823, the department said.

During the 62-day meeting in 1965, the handle was $17,064,936 and the tax revenue $959,294.

There are 102 former Big Ten athletes playing on the National Football League teams this year.

Ship Building Halted In Strike Of Craft Unions

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — A strike by more than 3,000 members of seven craft unions has idled ship construction involving several government contracts at American Ship Building yards here and in Toledo and Chicago.

Shipyards here and in Toledo were struck Monday morning. Official results of membership votes later in the day indicated the members did not want to accept the three-year contract offered by the Lorain based company.

Company officials said they did not expect the strike so soon because the union negotiating committee had agreed to a 24-hour extension of the old contract. However, union members disregarded the extension and walked off their jobs.

Herald Tribune Goes Out Of Business In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Herald Tribune, heir to the journalistic legacy of Horace Greeley and James Gordon Bennett, is dead.

The end of the Herald Tribune, which has not published for 115 days, was announced Monday by the World Journal Tribune Inc., the new publishing firm incorporating the Herald Tribune, the World-Telegram & Sun and the Jounral-American.

Matt Meyer, president of the new company, said the publishers planned to go ahead with new afternoon and Sunday papers. Labor difficulties have kept all the planned new papers from being published since the merger was announced last April.

Meyer said the long delay has caused a loss of "talent in all creative departments of the Herald Tribune.

"It now has reached the point where we cannot bring the public the kind of morning newspaper hoped for. We are unwilling to settle for less," he said.

"We are therefore consolidating our talent and resources into an afternoon and a Sunday newspaper, to be known as the World Journal Tribune in both instances," Meyer said.

Originally the company had planned to publish the Herald and the World Journal Tribune on Sunday.

The loss of the Herald Tribune left Manhattan with four major dailies, including the World Journal Tribune. The others are the morning New York Times and Daily News and the afternoon Post. Manhattan had six major dailies before the merger. Thirty-five years ago there were 12.

Thus only the word Tribune on the new masthead remained of a journalistic history that began with the penny-a-copy Herald of James Gordon Bennett in 1835. Six years later Horace Greeley's Tribune was born.

Separately, and later as the merged Herald Tribune, the papers were home to some of the greatest names of American journalism: Mark Twain, Richard Harding Davis, Henry J. Raymond and Charles A. Dana.

In modern times, the Herald Tribune's columnists included Art Buchwald, John O'Hara, Walter Kerr, Walter Lippmann and Red Smith.

The last of the liberal Republican Herald Tribune's owners was John Hay Whitney, who bought the paper in 1958.

Whitney brought innovations in format and makeup which attracted the attention of the entire newspaper industry but circulation declined. In 1965, the papers last full year, it was 303,179 daily and 360,876 Sunday.

John Hay Whitney, publisher of the Herald Tribune and former U.S. ambassador to England, said he would continue to publish the Paris edition of the paper. He recently sold a 45 per cent share in the overseas edition to the Washington Post.

Meyer said the folding of the Tribune was the direct result of the breakdown Aug. 4 of negotiations between the publishers and the Pressmen's Union, the only one of 10 unions which has not come to terms.

Thomas M. Laura, Mailers Union president who acted as spokesmen for all the newspaper unions, said:

"I think Meyer is wrong to accuse the unions. You have to look at the position of both sides in this dispute."

Meyer said the Herald Tribune's end would mean a loss of 800 jobs.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the state would set up special services to help Herald Tribune employes find jobs.

Scaffold Slips, Worker Falls 105 Feet To Death

POINT MARION, Pa. (AP)—A scaffold 105 feet above ground at a construction project near here slipped Monday, sending one man to his death. Two others working on the scaffold survived.

The victim was Charles Johnson, 51, of New Freeport, Greene County. Kelly Tennant, 61, of Fairview, W.Va., grabbed an electric cable as he was falling and swung over to a girder. The third man, not identified, jumped to a girder.

Tennant was hospitalized in fair condition at the University of West Virginia Medical Center, Morgantown, with internal injuries.

The men were installing a boiler at the Fort Martin Power Station under construction near this Fayette County town.

Cab Drivers Checked In Cincinnati Murder

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police are checking out scores of former and present taxicab drivers in hopes of turning up the killer of Miss Barbara Bowman, 31-year-old secretary.

Miss Bowman was killed early Sunday morning. She was run down by a stolen cab and then fatally slashed on the throat.

Police believe someone with a firsthand knowledge of cab operations is the killer. Miss Bowman had taken a cab home from a cafe, unaware that it had been stolen and the driver was unauthorized to operate it.

She was found unconscious on the street near her apartment, where she lived alone and died in a hospital before she could tell police what had happened.

When you are lining a cake pan with paper, don't worry about having the paper come right to the inside edge of the pan. It's not necessary to have the paper exactly fit the pan.

Beatles Lure 32,164 Into D.C. Stadium

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steering steadfastly clear of amateur theology, the Beatles resume their American tour today, having sent thousands of the capital's teen-agers into cheering fits.

Under elaborate police guard, the unshorn quartet performed Monday night in D.C. Stadium. The turnstiles clicked to a total of 32,164 and the affair went off practically without incident.

Five Ku Kluxers, proclaiming their objection to Beatle John Lennon's remarks about Christianity, picketed the stadium.

But the nearest thing to violence was when a 16-year-old youth eluded the police cordon at third base, streaked to the bandstand at second base and laid a hand on three Beatles before being collared. He explained that he just wanted to touch the musicians because he admired them so.

The concert, punctuated by piercing cheers and screams, followed a news conference.

Did Lennon feel, a newsperson asked, that the Vatican had made him feel better, had sort of got him off a hot spot? This was a reference to a L'Osservatore Romano article saying Lennon had spoken of Christ without thinking, "offhandedly and not impiously."

Lennon replied:

"If it makes other people feel better, it will make me feel better."

Some pastors had denounced him, and some disc jockeys signaled for bonfires fueled by Beatle works, because he had remarked:

"We're more popular than Jesus now. Jesus was all right but His Disciples were thick and ordinary. It's them twisting it that ruins it for me."

Later he apologized, saying he had merely tried to deplore some people's attitude toward Christianity.

Wyoming Voters To Choose Governor, House Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wyoming Democrats and Republicans choose nominees today for governor and the state's lone House seat. Montana holds primary elections, too, but contests there have failed to attract national attention.

Five candidates are seeking the Democratic nomination for governor of Wyoming. Three regarded as the chief contenders are Ernest Wilkerson and Ray Whitaker, Casper attorneys, and Jack Gage, a former secretary of state.

Bidding for the Republican nomination are Stan Hathaway, Torrington attorney; M. Joseph Burke, Casper sheep rancher, and Arthur Linde, Laramie sports store operator and a political unknown.

Wyoming Gov. Cliff Hansen is expected to gain the Republican nomination for the Senate over I. W. Kinney, who has offered himself for various offices in the past, including the presidency as candidate of the Benjamin Franklin party which he estbalished.

Rep. Teno Roncalio is unopposed for the Democratic Senate nomination.

Four candidates are bidding for the Democratic nomination to the House seat Roncalio is giving up. Regarded as front runners are Mayne Miller, a Casper attorney, and Al Christian, once state director of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Former Rep. William Henry Harrison, defeated by Roncalio two years ago, is seeking the Republican nomination but has opposition from Roy Peck, Riverton newspaper publisher. Harrison is a grandson of President Benjamin Harrison.

Montana also elects a senator this year but incumbent Sen. Lee Metcalf is unopposed for Democratic renomination and Gov. Tim M. Babcock has no opposition for the Republican spot.

With two years to go on his term as governor, Babcock will continue in that office if he misses in the fall election in his try for the Senate.

Montana's two House members — Democrat Arnold Olsen and Republican James F. Battin — are unopposed for renomination.

There is a contest between Richard Smiley, operator of a Bozeman radio station, and Edward Canty, a Butte miner, for the Republican nomination to run against Olsen.

Richard Melcher, a state senator, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination to challenge Battin.

People In News

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Where did honeymooning Pat and Luci Johnson Nugent go Saturday night? Plenty of newsmen parked outside their swank Bahamas honeymoon villa tried to find out.

But Nicki Kelly, a reporter for the Nassau Tribune, succeeded. She was dining with a friend at the Emerald Beach Hotel when the maitre d'hotel asked her to accept an alternative table as two important and unexpected guests had arrived.

The reporter accepted the other table, then looked round and saw the newlyweds.

She said the Nugents applauded entertainers performing the acrobatic limbo dance, chatted with American guests who stopped at their table — and eventually left by a back entrance to avoid onlookers who had gathered at the front of the hotel.

DRIGGS, Idaho (AP) — U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren was out of his judicial robes and into his fishing clothes today on southeast Idaho's Teton River.

The chief justice and a group of friends arrived at a guest lodge on the western slopes of the Grand Tetons near Driggs Monday to try their luck at fly-fishing for trout.

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — Gov. J. Millard Tawes of Maryland, host for the Governors Invitational Marlin Tournament, murmured, "Oh my goodness, oh my goodness!" and pumped his fishing reel.

Tawes was battling a 45-pound, 88-inch marlin that jumped from the water 24 times. After 25 minutes, the governor landed the fish.

But Tawes was visibly crestfallen Monday when he returned to the Ocean City dock and found out that one of his guests, Gov. Charles L. Terry of Delaware, had also landed a marlin. Terry's fish was bigger, 91 inches long and 57 pounds.

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams is under treatment for a mild kidney infection at Jennings Hospital.

Williams, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate, entered the hospital Monday after complaining of stomach pains.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A research chemist, trying to become the first to swim the Pacific Ocean from the Farallon Islands to the Golden Gate, was pulled from the water today, two miles from his goal.

Ted A. Erikson, 38, of Chicago, had been in the frigid water 17 hours when he was taken from the water two miles southwest of Point Bonita, the land that juts the farthest out into the ocean near the San Francisco Bay entrance.

Sale Of Pittsburgh Laundry Set Aside

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The sale of the Peter Pan Laundry chain to Century Dry Cleaners of Johnstown for $22,500 has been set aside by Judge J. Frank McKenna of Allegheny County Court.

Local 141 of the Laundry and Dry Cleaning Union had asked the court to reverse an order permitting the sale, saying the firm's assets had not been inventoried.

McKenna's ruling, which came Monday, ordered an immediate inventory.

Wyoming Voters To Choose Governor, House Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wyoming Democrats and Republicans choose nominees today for governor and the state's lone House seat. Montana holds primary elections, too, but contests there have failed to attract national attention.

Five candidates are seeking the Democratic nomination for governor of Wyoming. Three regarded as the chief contenders are Ernest Wilkerson and Ray Whitaker, Casper attorneys, and Jack Gage, a former secretary of state.

Bidding for the Republican nomination are Stan Hathaway, Torrington attorney; M. Joseph Burke, Casper sheep rancher, and Arthur Linde, Laramie sports store operator and a political unknown.

Wyoming Gov. Cliff Hansen is expected to gain the Republican nomination for the Senate over I. W. Kinney, who has offered himself for various offices in the past, including the presidency as candidate of the Benjamin Franklin party which he estbalished.

Rep. Teno Roncalio is unopposed for the Democratic Senate nomination.

Four candidates are bidding for the Democratic nomination to the House seat Roncalio is giving up. Regarded as front runners are Mayne Miller, a Casper attorney, and Al Christian, once state director of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Former Rep. William Henry Harrison, defeated by Roncalio two years ago, is seeking the Republican nomination but has opposition from Roy Peck, Riverton newspaper publisher. Harrison is a grandson of President Benjamin Harrison.

Montana also elects a senator this year but incumbent Sen. Lee Metcalf is unopposed for Democratic renomination and Gov. Tim M. Babcock has no opposition for the Republican spot.

With two years to go on his term as governor, Babcock will continue in that office if he misses in the fall election in his try for the Senate.

Montana's two House members — Democrat Arnold Olsen and Republican James F. Battin — are unopposed for renomination.

There is a contest between Richard Smiley, operator of a Bozeman radio station, and Edward Canty, a Butte miner, for the Republican nomination to run against Olsen.

Richard Melcher, a state senator, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination to challenge Battin.

People In News

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Where did honeymooning Pat and Luci Johnson Nugent go Saturday night? Plenty of newsmen parked outside their swank Bahamas honeymoon villa tried to find out.

But Nicki Kelly, a reporter for the Nassau Tribune, succeeded. She was dining with a friend at the Emerald Beach Hotel when the maitre d'hotel asked her to accept an alternative table as two important and unexpected guests had arrived.

The reporter accepted the other table, then looked round and saw the newlyweds.

She said the Nugents applauded entertainers performing the acrobatic limbo dance, chatted with American guests who stopped at their table — and eventually left by a back entrance to avoid onlookers who had gathered at the front of the hotel.

DRIGGS, Idaho (AP) — U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren was out of his judicial robes and into his fishing clothes today on southeast Idaho's Teton River.

The chief justice and a group of friends arrived at a guest lodge on the western slopes of the Grand Tetons near Driggs Monday to try their luck at fly-fishing for trout.

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — Gov. J. Millard Tawes of Maryland, host for the Governors Invitational Marlin Tournament, murmured, "Oh my goodness, oh my goodness!" and pumped his fishing reel.

Tawes was battling a 45-pound, 88-inch marlin that jumped from the water 24 times. After 25 minutes, the governor landed the fish.

But Tawes was visibly crestfallen Monday when he returned to the Ocean City dock and found out that one of his guests, Gov. Charles L. Terry of Delaware, had also landed a marlin. Terry's fish was bigger, 91 inches long and 57 pounds.

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams is under treatment for a mild kidney infection at Jennings Hospital.

Williams, Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate, entered the hospital Monday after complaining of stomach pains.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A research chemist, trying to become the first to swim the Pacific Ocean from the Farallon Islands to the Golden Gate, was pulled from the water today, two miles from his goal.

Ted A. Erikson, 38, of Chicago, had been in the frigid water 17 hours when he was taken from the water two miles southwest of Point Bonita, the land that juts the farthest out into the ocean near the San Francisco Bay entrance.

Sale Of Pittsburgh Laundry Set Aside

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The sale of the Peter Pan Laundry chain to Century Dry Cleaners of Johnstown for $22,500 has been set aside by Judge J. Frank McKenna of Allegheny County Court.

Local 141 of the Laundry and Dry Cleaning Union had asked the court to reverse an order permitting the sale, saying the firm's assets had not been inventoried.

McKenna's ruling, which came Monday, ordered an immediate inventory.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 16, the 228th day of 1966. There are 137 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1780, the battle of Camden, S.C. was fought. Lord Cornwallis led 2,000 British against 3,000 Americans under Gen. Horatio Gates. The Colonial army was almost destroyed.

On this date:

In 1777, Colonial troops were victorious in the revolutionary battle of Bennington.

In 1858, Britain's Queen Victoria and U.S. President James Buchanan exchanged greetings over the first transatlantic cable.

In 1945, Japanese remnants continued to fight in parts of the Philippines despite the end of the war.

Junior Editors Quiz on CAMELS

QUESTION: How is it possbile for a camel to go without water for long periods?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Camels have worked for man longer than any other animal and have been of inestimable value to him. Without them, men could not have lived in the dry desert country of the Near East—and it was here, remember, that the first civilization started. Camels have the ability to go without water, and also without food for considerable lengths of time. They can survive severe desert conditions which would destroy other creatures.

Many people believe that the camel carries a reserve of water in his hump, but this is not true. The camel has reserve of fat stored in his hump, and this acts as nourishment when he can't get anything to eat. Camels can go for long periods of time without water but will drink a great deal when they have a chance. Unlike most animals they do not sweat—so their water supply last longer.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask a friend if he knows where camels live. He'll probably say Arabia and the Near East. He'll be right about one kind of camel; but you can tell him about the Bactrian Camel, which lives in north central Asia in such places as the Gobi Desert. This is the kind of camel with two humps.

Scout Council Sets Session For Planning

LISBON — The first of six program planning meetings scheduled by the Columbiana Boy Scout Council will be held at 7:30 tonight in the scout cabin at East Palestine City Park.

Jack Hovis of Salem, the council's training chairman, and Bennett D. Taylor Jr. of Lisbon, executive in council headquarters at Lisbon, will be in charge.

Taylor said the meetings will deal with the fall roundup, camporals, the "goodwill-good turn" project, winter camping and training courses.

He said unit leaders — cubmasters, scoutmasters and explorer advisors — and their committees should attend. Units may select the meeting most convenient for them since the same program will be given each time.

The schedule for the other meetings, all at 7:30 p. m., follows:: Wednesday, Ohio Power Co., East Liverpool; Tuesday, Aug. 23, Columbiana Village Hall; Wednesday, Aug. 24, Camp McKinley near Lisbon; Thursday, Aug. 25, Salem Memorial Building, and Friday, Aug. 26, Wellsville First Methodist Church.

Taylor said a camping and activities committee meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the scout office.

The council is preparing a special training course, "Unit Administration," dealing with the paper work of scouting—registration, troop records, advancement, unit financial records and other required forms. The course is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 8, at Camp McKinley.

Guild Okays 3-Year Pact With Vindicator

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— The Youngstown Newspaper Guild has approved a three-year contract with the Youngstown Vindicator that will increase top scale for newsmen to $164 a week by 1969.

The wage package gives newsmen a $6-a-week raise this year, with $5-a-week for the next two years.

The contract, retroactive to March 1, covers about 120 members of Local 11, American Newspaper Guild, which also represents classified and outside circulation personnel.

The contract, approved unanimously, was signed over the weekend.

The guild struck the Vindicator in August, 1964, over a new contract for outside circulation department employes. The strike lasted eight months.

Polar Bear cubs are only about 10 inches long at birth and weigh slightly more than 1½ pounds. Males often grow to eight or 11 feet in length and weigh 1,000 pounds.

U.N. Slates Inspection In West Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — For the first time in United Nations history, the special Committee on Colonialsim is sending a mission to inspect a colony by invitation of the colonial power.

A seven-member subcommittee will leave tonight for Madrid to confer with authorities before visiting Spanish Equatorial Guinea, in West Africa.

The subcommittee includes representatives of Chile, Denmark, Mali, Poland, Sierra Leone, Syria and Tanzania. It has been instructed to investigate conditions in the territory "with a view to speeding up the implementation" of the U.N. General Assembly's 1960 declaration for the independence of colonial peoples.

At a recent meeting in Algiers, Spanish delegate Jaime de Pinies invited the committee to check on conditions in the territory.

Equatorial Guinea includes Fernando Poo and an adjacent smaller island in the Gulf of Guinea and Rio Muni on the west coast of Africa and three small offshore islands. The population totals about 235,000, of whom less than 12,000 are Europeans.

The Trusteeship Council has often sent missions to report back on territories held under U.N. trusteeship by various administering powers. But never before had the Committee on Colonialism, established in 1961, received an invitation to send a mission to a territory not under trusteeship.

In the early days of the United Nations, Spain refused even to supply information on its colonies to the committee.

Since the Committee on Colonialism was established in 1961, however, Spain has become the most cooperative of all the colonial powers.

Camp Of Chicago Bears Rates Something Special

ENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The camp of the Chicago Bears is something special.

Tucked away in the tall corn country of Jasper County, on the campus of St. Joseph's College, the Bears simmer in the hot Indiana sun. They are several light years removed from the honky tonks of Chicago's Old Town.

George Halas, the hardy pioneer who dates back to the birth of the National Football League, is the boss. No matter what titles he owns officially, he is the coach, general manager, owner, publicity man, police force and father confessor.

The Papa Bear, now 71, roams the wide range in a motorized golf cart, pausing now and then to check his minute-by-minute schedule for the day.

"Camps are tougher now than they were in the old days," he said while he referred to his timetable. "Every phase of the day is divided into 15-minute sectors and some of them are split into 7½-minute periods. We work one hour and 40 minutes now that the two-a-day season is over. That is equivalent to over two hours in the old days."

The flat land stretched off in all directions, broken only by a few new buildings on the growing campus, one of them known as Halas Hall.

"Too bad you can't stay over," Halas said to some visitors. "I wanted to show you the Great White Way of Rensselaer after dark. We lost the Ace Hardware, but we have a new drug store."

Just in case the Bears are overcome by wanderlust, Halas insists they be in their rooms in the dormitories at 11 p.m. "Just so we know they are around." Lights flick out at 11:30 p.m. "for silent communion with themselves." They are up and at 'em at 7:30 a.m.
